By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—James J.
Walker, Tammany Democrat, has been elected Mayor of Greater New York by a plurality of 401,581 over Frank D. Waterman, Republican.
Walker's running mates on the city ticket were swept into office
in one of the most impressive victories ever scored by Tammany yesterday. The next Board of Estates will be solidly Democratic.
Walker carried all five boroughs
but his plurality did not reach the high-water mark of 427,401, which Mayor Hylan won in 1921.
The total vote cast was less than last year, however.

District Attorney Jacob H. Barton, Democrat, was re-elected over former Governor Charles S. Whitman, who had waged a vigorous campaign. Whitman was twice elected District Attorney before he became Governor. Barton's majority was 115,000.

A semi-professional ballplayer, a song writer in New York's famous Tin Pan Alley and a stage manager in his career, Walker has been in the Legislature for 16 years. He has been an active supporter of welfare legislation. He is a sponsor of laws permitting Sunday movies and Sunday
baseball. He is a lawyer.

His victory came on the thirty-
ninth anniversary of his wedding,
and Mrs. Walker, who was a Chil-dago girl, formerly an actress, was proudly present at the display of her husband's electoral success. "Will You Love Me in December as in May?"

Berlin wrote campaign song.
Tin Pan Alley helped him. His sympathetic campaign song, "Walk With Walker," was written by Irving Berlin.

Walker is a little fellow, weighing 125, but has a mighty voice. He is 44 years old.

Gov. Smith's comment on the election was: "This great Democratic victory will be watched throughout the world."

Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for Mayor, received about 8,000 votes.

The vote was surprisingly large,
view of the decrease in registration and the apathy that characterized the campaign. It totaled approximately 1,125,358, though many observers had predicted it would be less than a million. At his last mayoralty election the vote was 1,165,800.

The mayoralty election is regarded as another triumph for Gov.
Smith, as is also the ratification of the constitutional amendments for the lower house of the Legislature. These amendments were opposed by the Republican organization.

One authorizes a $200,000,000
bond issue for grade crossing elimination. Another provides consolidation of State offices.

The Republicans elected a majority of the lower house of the Legislature, but the Democrats gained four seats.

Honus Wagner Loses Election.
By Associated Press.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 4.—Unofficial returns indicate that the Republican ticket had swept Pittsburgh and Allegheny County yesterday. Judge Charles H. Kline was elected Mayor. Honus Wagner, former major league ball player,
was defeated for sheriff. Wagner ran on the labor nonpartisan ticket.

NEW YORK ALDERMAN

NEW YORK ELECTS WOMAN ALDERMAN

Mrs. Ruth Pratt Is Victor in Fashionable Fifth Avenue
Section.

York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Ruth Pratt was elected the first woman member of the Board of Aldermen yesterday.

Mrs. Pratt, running on the Republican ticket in the Fifteenth Assembly District, defeated James A.
O'Gorman Jr. by a majority of 2,795, the largest margin any aldermanic candidate but one ever has received in that district. She carried several election districts which are considered solidly Democratic,
and won 37 out of a total of 55.

"I have no definite plans to carry out in the Board of Aldermen, although I hope to do many things,"
she said.

"I want first, not to try to do everything at once. And, next, I believe, there must be a common ground on which the Republicans and Democrats in New York City can stand. I believe there are measures proposed by both which might be acceptable to Republicans."

Mrs. Pratt is the wife of John T.
Pratt, son of Charles Pratt, one of the Standard Oil group of millionaires and is active in society. Her district is the fashionable Fifth avenue section. O'Gorman, whom she defeated, is a son of the former United States Senator. Her husband was in Amherst College with President Coolidge.

CHAUNCEY OLCOTT, ILL.; HIS RECOVERY DOUBTFUL

Recovery.

By Associated Press.
ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 4.— Chauncey Olcott, actor, seriously ill at St. Joseph's Hospital here, was reported this morning to be resting easily. His physician, however, expressed doubt of his recovery.

Olcott was stricken last Friday night but his illness did not become generally known until last night. John McCormack, an-

form in Hill Auditorium. Explaining why he had suddenly stopped
in the midst of the song "Mother

have just learned that Chauncey Olcott, the actor, is lying seriously ill at a local hospital. I know this audience, knowing of his illness, will breathe a prayer for his recovery."

By Associated Press.
NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 4.—Romance that began while the schooner, Isabella, was being dashed to pieces in a storm,
off Cape Hatteras, last Saturday, culminated in marriage yesterday.

Senorita Pearl Herrera, 18 years old and a sister-in-law of the captain of the schooner, became the bride of James Alexander Shields, 28, a member of the crew who several times risked his life to keep her from being swept overboard by the waves that swept the vessel sunk.

THREE KILLED IN ELECTION DAY FIGHTS IN KENTUCKY

By Associated Press.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 4.— Three men were reported killed in election fights in Kentucky yesterday.

Reports from Harlan said William Gilbert and a man named Maples killed each other near High Split, 18 miles from Harlan, and Whitesburg dispatches said George Bates was killed and four others wounded near there in a row in which 40 shots were exchanged.

WAVE SWEEPS THREE TO DEATH

By Associated Press.

coast during the last 48 hours.

Fishing boats have been obliged to run for port. The smack Rollon was caught in the storm off Dieppe
and lost three of her crew when a huge wave combed her deck.

Both air and sea traffic between France and England has been sus-

has been experienced in the low-lying quarters of Cherbourg.

RECORD STOCK SALE ON NEW YORK EXCHANGE

Trading Runs About 2,800,000
Shares, Greatest in One Day Since 1916.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Trading on the New York Stock Exchange
today broke all records for volume in the last 20 years with one exception. In Dec. 1916, there was a 2,000,000-share market following the "leak" on the Wilson place notes when total stock sales ran above 2,800,000 shares. The price movement was highly irregular
with the main trend upward.

United States Steel common was a market leader, jumping more than 5 points to a new high record
at 134 1/2, the highest since 1917.

Some unofficial estimates placed total stock sales at just above
2,900,000 shares.

With the exception of a lowering of call money rates there was nothing in the day's news to account for the stupendous demand for stocks. Word was passed around Wall street today, however,
that the investigation now being conducted by the Bureau of Internal Revenue into the undistributed surpluses of several large corporations would undoubtedly lead to the distribution of stock dividends by those corporations, and this possibility helped to create bullish enthusiasm.

TREASURY ASKED HOW MUCH TAX CUTTING IT CAN STAND

House Committee, Drafting Bill, Apparently Dissatisfied With $300,000,000 Limit.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The House Ways and Means Committee today called upon the Treasury for further statistics on the total reduction in revenue which the Government believes it could stand before proceeding with its work on tax reductions.

Apparently dissatisfied with the $300,000,000 limit of tax cuts set by the Treasury, the committee decided to determine for itself on the basis of Government expenditures and receipts just how far it could go in jolting off revenues.

Estimates on Government expenditures and receipts for the next fiscal year were asked for by the committee. It expects to decide on a limit in the total reduction in revenue to be made.

Under a program adopted today
the committee will proceed with revision of the income tax rates as soon as it has set a tentative goal
of total reduction.

OLD EMPLOYEES OF THE FIRM HARD HIT

Pathetic Scene When Receiver Informs Them of Discharge Along With Loss of Life's Savings.

By Associated Press.
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 4.—The extent of the criminality in the Ferguson-McKinney Manufacturing Co.'s continuing scheme
of borrowing from banks on fraudulent representations of assets grows
as the investigation of the company's affairs by the Bankers' Committee progresses.

It was discovered today that items listed as liquid assets of undoubted value and aggregating approximately $1,250,000 have vanished—if they ever existed—between the company's last statement in March, 1925, and the company's failure.

The March statement showed bills receivable, "exclusive of doubtful accounts written off," to have been $1,800,000. It now is disclosed by auditors that this item
was padded by more than $100,000.

Stock Inventory Also Padded.
The March statement showed an inventory of stock totaling $1,551,- 924. It now is disclosed by auditors that this item also was padded
by more than $100,000.

The company also falsified its statement of profits for last year,
reporting a gross profit of $417,000
and a net profit, after payment of $70,000 for preferred stock dividends and reserving $28,000 for income tax, in excess of $300,000.

It now is disclosed that, instead of making a profit of $300,000, the company actually lost about that sum.

This March statement was submitted to banks as a basis for crediting the company with the sum succeeded in obtaining loans totaling $2,300,000.

"Our astonishment grows," said
an interested banker to the Post-Dispatch. "The revelations in this case are so amazing that I for one have almost lost faith in humanity.
The dependence of the banks on the reliability of the Ferguson-Mc-Kinney Co. was made absolute by their faith in Murray Carleton, a successful business man, a leading figure in the life of the city for 25 years or more, member of exclusive clubs and a lay preacher
in the Methodist Church."

Dealings All With Carleton.
"All of the bank's dealings were with Murray Carleton. He was the financial man and actual owner
of the Ferguson-McKinney Co., Forrest Ferguson, the president of the company, handled the firm's inventories, and signed the company's notes for loans negotiated by Carleton."

The $2,300,000 which the Ferguson-McKinney company owes to banks (about $1,100,000 to St.
Louis banks and the balance to Eastern banks) is secured only by demand notes signed by "The Ferguson-McKinney Mfg. Co., Forrest Ferguson, president," except in a few instances in which stock of the company, now worthless, was pledged as collateral.

Debts About $4,000,000.
Liabilities of the Ferguson-Mc-Kinney company have been placed by the bankers' committee at nearly $4,000,000, and the bankers now
do not think they will salvage more than 25 per cent from the wreck,
thus making the loss to creditors
$3,000,000. Liabilities are as follows:

Loans from banks, $3,300,000
Bills payable, 600,000
Total, $3,900,000

of the company also has been

An "ad" in a Connecticut paper was not Raymond P. White, but Raymond Arthur Hale, direct de-

EXECUTORS OF THE WILL OF ARTHUR HALE HAD TRACED HIM

He had his mother, Fanny Phillips, had met and married Hale in New husband marched off. The last heard of him was in the charge

The young widow married John White and they moved to New Brunswick. It was there that Capt. Hale, sick with fever and weak from a long spell
in a Cuban hospital, went one night. Like Enoch Arden, he crept away when he saw what he saw,
and retired to the Hale home in Glastonbury, Conn., where he in-

will was named as Raymond Ar-

ST. LOUIS PRIEST ESCAPES FROM CHINESE BANDITS

The Rev. Otto A. Rauschenbach, 28, and Companion Missionary En Route to Hongkong.

STATE DEPARTMENT RECEIVES REPORT

Head of Seminary Where Young Men Trained Also Notified of Their Safety—Captured on Island.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

OSISING, N. Y., Nov. 4.—The Rev. Otto A. Rauschenbach, of St. Louis and the Rev. Thomas O'Melia of Philadelphia, held captive by Chinese bandits, have escaped and are now en route to Hongkong. It was disclosed today in a cablegram to the Very Rev. James A. Walsh, head of the Maryknoll Seminary, near here, which trains American priests for foreign missions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Confirmation of cable reports that two American priests captured by Chinese bandits at St. John Island, near Manila, have been released and are now en route to Hongkong. The release of the priests was reported to the State Department by a cablegram from the American Consul-General Roger C. Tredwell at Hongkong. The release of the priests was reported to the State Department by a cablegram from the American Consul-General Roger C. Tredwell at Hongkong.

Father Rauschenbach is 28 years old, and the son of Mrs. Josephine Rauschenbach, 1075 Ridge avenue. He completed a five-year course at the St. Louis Preparatory Seminary, 4242 Washington boulevard, in 1917 and entered the Catholic Foreign Mission Seminary, Maryknoll, N. Y. He was in a group of 24 young priests who departed from Los Angeles for Chinese missionary fields in September, 1924. Another in the group was the Rev. Edward V. Mueh, son of John Mueh Sr., 1520 Nebraska avenue.

Francis Rauschenbach, a younger brother, is a student at Maryknoll Preparatory College, Scranton, Pa., and expects to be ready for foreign service in a few years. Another brother is Gus Rauschenbach, a carpenter contractor here.

Stationed on Island.

The Very Rev. James A. Walsh, head of the seminary at Maryknoll, said he was certain that it was Fathers Rauschenbach and O'Melia who were kidnapped, because they were the only priests assigned to St. John's Island. This island, also known as San Juan, is where St. Francis Xavier died. It was turned over by the French mission to the American missionaries in 1924. There are about 60 Catholics and 10,000 pagans on the island.

"Two weeks ago," said Father Walsh, "I received word from these two fathers that San Juan had been captured by pirates and that a guard had been established on the coast. Father Rauschenbach and Father O'Melia informed me that while they were absent in Hong Kong, on retreat, pirates had visited the island and ravaged our church there."

Father Walsh said he was not worried about the missing priests.

"No fear for safety," he said. "They know how to take care of themselves," he explained. "Bandits in China are not as dangerous as pirates, and are much nicer than bandits in New York. In China they do not take your life and they usually leave you enough money to get away."

"One of our priests who was taken by bandits some time ago told me that he had the time of his life while in captivity and that incidentally it was the first real rest he had had since he was ordained."

In 1922 Father Walsh was in a party of 12 missionaries which was halted near the village of Woo Chow, South China, by 10 bandits who boarded their boat on the South River. The bandits demanded large sums of money, but finally accepted $50 to release the missionaries.

K. K. K. CANDIDATE WINS IN INDIANAPOLIS

John L. Duvall, Republican, Is Chosen Mayor by 8991 Plurality.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—The Republican party was a decisive victor in Indiana in yesterday's voting on the face of returns today from a majority of cities.

John L. Duvall, Republican, backed by the Ku Klux Klan, was elected mayor of Indianapolis by a plurality of 8991 over his Democratic opponent, Walter Myers. Duvall carried the entire Republican city ticket, supported by the Klan, into office with him.

Unofficial returns from 70 cities disclosed that Republicans took away from the Democrats 24 mayoralships and two from other parties. Ten Republican mayoralships were lost in the election to the Democrats and two to other parties.

The Republicans captured the majority of offices from the Democrats at Fort Wayne, Evansville and Lafayette, the latter city having been under Democratic regime for 20 years.

St. Paul was the most important city lost by the Republicans. Chester R. Montgomery, Democrat, being elected over Samuel Leeper, Republican, by 2600 majority. Ora Davis, Republican, was re-elected mayor of Terre Haute, carrying every ward.

Six Election Inspectors Arrested at Aurora, Ind.

AURORA, Ind., Nov. 4.—Six election inspectors were arrested here yesterday and the balloting was held up for several hours when a public demonstration followed a declaration by the inspectors that the ballots were illegal and that the election could not proceed.

The inspectors, when taken to the headquarters by Chief of Police Goodmaster, refused to give up the ballots. They were released and later rearrested by county authorities, who took the ballots from them. All were placed under $1500 bond.

MAN'S REQUEST TO BE SENT TO JAIL NEAR HOME GRANTED

Attorney Points Out That Impoverished Farmer Must Walk Home When Released.

Because his attorney pointed out that "he could walk home" after completion of a one-month jail sentence for manufacturing intoxicating liquor, Milton Radford, a St. Francois County farmer, this morning was sentenced to serve his term in the Iron County jail instead of at St. Charles, by Federal Judge Faris. Impoverished by crop failures, and unable to support his small child, Radford turned to the manufacture of illicit liquor, his attorney said. Radford appeared in court in rubber boots and well-worn overalls.

Vito Mazzuca and Joe Grago, found operating a still in St. Louis County, and in possession of 40,000 gallons of mash, by prohibitionists, were fined $1500 each and sentenced to eight months in jail by Judge Faris. Mazzuca will be sent to the Warren County jail, and Grago's sentence will be served at St. Charles.

DEMOCRATS GO BACK IN POWER IN KANSAS CITY

Their Majority in Council Will Control Jobs, Although Mayor Beach, Republican Is Re-Elected.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 4.—On the tabulation of unofficial returns of the municipal election yesterday, the Democrats apparently have wrested control of Kansas City from the Republicans, and with it all the jobs under the city administration.

Albert I. Beach, Republican, was re-elected Mayor, but the Democrats through the election of a majority of the Council will control the new Charter making the Mayor largely a figure-head. The Council will elect the Mayor, who will appoint all heads of departments.

George Goldman, Democrat, defeated Lewis R. Jewell, Republican, for Councilman at Large by 271 votes. The closest race was for the office of the Mayor, which gives the Democrats the majority in the Council.

Lead of Only 494.

Beach for Mayor led Ben Jaudon, Democrat, by 421 votes. The closest race was for the office of the Mayor, which gives the Democrats the majority in the Council.

Bonds to a total of $25,000,000 had been proposed for many municipalities. Improvements, including the purchase of land for parks and the improvement of existing parks, boulevards and streets. Among the propositions submitted was one to buy the unsightly hill opposite the city hall.

The rest of the State gave Whitney a plurality of almost 65,000. Whitney, who won the Republican nomination as anti-boss candidate against a candidate favored by Senator Egan, made an issue of "Haguel" vs. "Coolidgeism."

The third Congressional District in South Jersey elected a Republican, Stewart Appleby, over J. Lyle Kinmouth, Democrat. Appleby, real estate broker in Asbury Park, will succeed his father, the late T. Frank Appleby, who died in a heart attack.

The Legislature continues Republican.

BOSTON REPUBLICANS WIN MAYORALTY CONTEST

Democrats Lose Local Election for the First Time in Eighteen Years.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—For the first time in 18 years, Democratic Boston has elected a Republican Mayor. Malcolm E. Nichols, who has been Collector of Internal Revenue to enter the mayoralty race, yesterday defeated his nearest Democratic rival, Theodore A. G. City Police Commissioner, by 23,190.

Nichols polled 64,233 votes and Glynn had 41,933. Joseph H. O'Neill, banker, who finished third in the 10-man race, polled 31,390.

Nichols, endorsed by Republican leaders and the Good Government Association, had the almost united support of his party.

Glynn, supported by Mayor Curran, was unsuccessful because of O'Neill's refusal to run. The latter was induced to run by the anti-Curran faction of the party.

The election, conducted on non-partisan lines, followed the most tangled campaign in the city's history. The large number of candidates was due to the fact that Boston does not hold a primary to select its municipal candidates, and the names of all office seekers are placed on the ballot on nomination papers go on the ballot on election day.

CREW OF BURNED SHIP SAVED

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The crew of 17 men of the freighter Algiers, which was burned Sunday night off Virginia coast, was rescued by the British steamer Rassy, the Maritime Exchange was informed today by wireless from the British ship.

The rescued crew members are now aboard the Rassy, which is bound for Queenstown. Burning of the Algiers was reported by the Birmingham City, which went to the freighter's aid in answer to an S. O. S. Sunlight plane, which was sent to the burning ship, arrived at the Virginia coast, was engulfed in flames and no sign of life was seen aboard.

TWO CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS

WET DEMOCRAT CHOSEN GOVERNOR OF NEW JERSEY

Victor by 40,000, He Declares He Will Start Movement to Modify Volstead Law.

By the Associated Press.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 4.—Successful in his candidacy for Governor of New Jersey as an avowed wet, A. Harry Moore, Democrat, and Commissioner of Jersey City, is going to try to have Congress modify the Volstead Act.

Moore yesterday defeated State Senator Arthur Whitney, Republican, who declared for enforcement of the Volstead Act, and State enforcement act. Moore, with virtually complete returns tabulated, had a plurality of 42,152. The vote was: Moore, 454,581; Whitney, 412,168.

"When the returns were in Moore said: 'I propose immediately after my inauguration to initiate a movement in Congress to modify the Volstead act so as to permit the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer.'"

The campaign lasted over six months. The wet and dry issue entered early when the Anti-Saloon League endorsed Senator Whitney.

Moore's election in a State which last year saw President Coolidge a plurality of 370,000, was seen as increasing the prestige of Mayor Frank Hague, head of the Hudson County Democratic organization, and a vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee. It was in Hudson County that Commissioner Moore piled up the enormous plurality of 108,000 votes that gave him the election.

Some legal agency, such as the Circuit Attorney, would have power to order the production of the Carleton company's books for the purpose of completing a thorough audit of this side of the street.

The Circuit Attorney has indicated that he would move in the matter if someone would make formal complaint to him. For a time it appeared as if the banks and the stockholders, who had possibility now seems slight. Any stockholder's complaint would be sufficient to move the Circuit Attorney to action.

Carleton Too Ill to Be Seen.

Murray Carleton, who is 73 years old, is too ill at St. Luke's Hospital to be seen on any of the matters pertaining to the companies in which he has financial interests.

As is known, it was his message from the hospital to bankers through his attorney that they would find a financial difficulty at the Ferguson-McKinney company that led to the revelation of the failure.

In addition to the losses in the Ferguson-McKinney failure, the business of the Carleton Dry Goods Co., which Murray Carleton also controlled, is being liquidated.

The Carleton company, 16 years of age, had a capital of $50,000. The Carleton Dry Goods Co. had a capital of $44,688. Among those who have lost heavily in this company are about 75 employees, who have been discouraged to invest. None will discuss his investments. None on Washington avenue it is being told that they have lost half of an investment of about $100,000.

All of the 10 department managers are known to have invested savings in the stock regularly during the long term of their employment. Some of them in later years were given places on the board of directors.

Some of Carleton's subordinates who invested their savings almost totally in the business because of their faith in it, were S. G. Williams, $150,000; Otto Crum, $175,000; Henry Evans, $100,000; and J. R. Curlee, $100,000.

A banker familiar with the Ferguson-McKinney affairs today stated that the amount which Murray Ferguson personally owes to his company in an overdraft account is $180,000. Yesterday the Post-Dispatch told that this personal indebtedness was in some undetermined sum in excess of $100,000 and that Ferguson had turned over to the company assets which he told the bankers, represented his "last dollar." This included his 1300-acre show farm at Dyersburg, Tenn., which had been in the Ferguson family for generations.

One Going Factory.

One of the greatest solaces that the banks have found so far in their search for assets in discovery that the Ferguson-McKinney company owns virtually all the stock of the Alligator Co., whose factory at 4121 Bingham avenue has been working overtime in vain endeavor to keep abreast of the fashionable demand for colored rain slickers.

This company, established during the war and since growing and prospering, has for its president, Murray Ferguson, and for its secretary, Alfred P. Baggett, who is secretary of the Ferguson-McKinney Co., but title to the stock is with the Ferguson-McKinney company, not those individuals.

Other interests of Ferguson. On the other hand, a substantial interest in the Breathe-Right Clothing Co., 588 Washington avenue, is held by Forrest Ferguson personally. This company, capital $100,000, for the manufacture of men's clothing, is the following officers: President, D. J. Flournoy, who also is vice president of the Alligator company; secretary and treasurer, J. P. McGowan.

Records of U. S. Income Tax.

Records of the corporation income tax payments by the Ferguson-McKinney Co. for the business years of 1923 and 1924, were open to the public. They show that in 1923 the company paid $93,813.72 income tax, indicating a net profit for that year of $750,509.74. For 1924 the company paid $23,931.90 income tax, indicating a net profit of $191,935.20. Creditors have said that the company lost money, instead of making a profit in those years.

For 1923 and 1924 the Carleton Dry Goods Co., and the Carleton-Ferguson Co. made non-taxable returns, indicating no profits.

Federal Inquiry Likely. Assistant United States District Attorney Staffer said today that while no official complaint had been made to him by stockholders of the company who visited him yesterday for informal advice as to possible violation of Federal laws in the distribution of false financial statements. If it is to be expected that a less sensational course has not been pursued by the creditors of the company. These companies all have a good-will in the commercial world that is of large value and could have been reserved if cooler heads had been in charge of the situation and through the appointment of a committee had undertaken to continue the business and recoup in profitable years that which had been lost in lean years.

Ferguson-McKinney Listed Assets Missing

mon, is owned by the Carleton-Ferguson Co., controlled by Murray Carleton and in which Ferguson has stated that he himself owns no stock.

The audit to date has disclosed liabilities of $1,455,000 in excess of assets, and the task had not been finished. Books of the company are reported in a muddle. Some accounts receivable, as far back as 1919 and 1920, are carried as good.

The Bankers' committee is trying to trace the flow of assets back and forth across Twelfth boulevard—to the Ferguson-McKinney Co. at 1201 Washington avenue, when it was preparing a statement for credit purposes and back across the street to the Carleton Dry Goods Co. at 1143 Washington avenue, when the line of credit was established—but they are viewing the matter from one side of the street.

They have no authority to cross over to the Carleton company and, from its books, complete their knowledge of details of the transactions between the two companies. They know of the issuance of checks for large sums by the Ferguson-McKinney Co. They know the identity of every officer or subordinate in that company who had been in contact with the transaction, but they cannot ascertain whether corresponding large sums arrived at the Carleton company. Nor have they the means of discovering how large sums originated in the Carleton company for the benefit of the Ferguson-McKinney company.

Some legal agency, such as the Circuit Attorney, would have power to order the production of the Carleton company's books for the purpose of completing a thorough audit of this side of the street.

The Circuit Attorney has indicated that he would move in the matter if someone would make formal complaint to him. For a time it appeared as if the banks and the stockholders, who had possibility now seems slight. Any stockholder's complaint would be sufficient to move the Circuit Attorney to action.

He had a list in his hand. It was of those who were to go. He began his reading, "wait a minute," he was interrupted by an employee. "Is Mr. Hunter's name on the list?" He was informed that it was. "Wait, put mine down if it isn't there," the employee said, loyal at the last minute to his department head.

All of the traveling salesmen were discharged. Twenty-one had been with the company 16 years or more. Several had been there since the institution opened its doors, a little over 25 years ago. Some had started as stock boys. Only 27 of 54 clerks and stenographers were retained.

"Salaries stopped at the receiver's words. There was no compensation week or two weeks pay to lighten the blow of loss of a job almost without warning. There were no severance pay checks, no bonuses, and many tears. "This goes 25 years of my life," one man past middle age remarked. "Oh, well!"

Statement of Attorney in Behalf of Head of Ferguson-McKinney Co. Henry S. Priest, attorney for the Ferguson-McKinney Mfg. Co., and for its president, Forrest Ferguson, last night after a conference with Judge Priest, gave out the following statement:

"I have advised Mr. Forrest Ferguson, who has just recently resigned me, not to make any detailed statement concerning the affairs of the Ferguson-McKinney Manufacturing Co., the Carleton-Ferguson Dry Goods Co., or the Carleton Dry Goods Co., at present. The accounts of these companies seem to be so interrelated that it would be impossible in a short statement to give a correct understanding of the dealings between them. It is sufficient at this time to say that the Carleton-Ferguson Dry Goods Co. some four or five years ago had gone out of active business and become merely a holder of the stock of the other two companies."

"With this involved interrelation it is difficult to make a comprehensive statement to the public. In addition to the high character of Mr. Murray Carleton and of Mr. Forrest Ferguson, who are both gentlemen of high character and of high standing in the community, there has been nothing of a sensational character connected with either of these companies. Their assets are intact so far as any use of them was made by any of the officers or employees of the companies. If there is a shortage or a failure, it is a shortage due to the loss in business transactions and not to any peculation of anyone connected with either of these companies."

"It is to be regretted that a less sensational course has not been pursued by the creditors of the company. These companies all have a good-will in the commercial world that is of large value and could have been reserved if cooler heads had been in charge of the situation and through the appointment of a committee had undertaken to continue the business and recoup in profitable years that which had been lost in lean years."

Most of the questions put to him resembled those propounded to other medical witnesses until the witnesses came to the account of the blood tests whose results he described in detail.

A hypothetical question concerning the facts alleged by the State in Miss Oberholzer's death and with additional features of the case, Dr. Warvel's early testimony was propounded to the pathologist.

"In my opinion," Dr. Warvel answered, "the cause of death was some secondary infection superimposed upon nephritis."

He testified she probably had recovered from effects of the administered poison if infection from wounds had not set in.

The unexpected turn of the prosecution in presenting testimony to the effect that blood poisoning from wounds Miss Oberholzer was alleged to have suffered at the hands of Stephenson, former "grand dragon" of the Ku Klux Klan, was instrumental in causing her death, has added interest to the case.

The action showed for the first time on what the State would base its charge of first degree murder.

STATE DISCLOSES ITS CASE AGAINST FORMER 'DRAGON'

By the Associated Press.

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Nov. 4.—Anybody who lived 29 days after taking poison of the sort Miss Oberholzer took and who died on the thirtieth day, probably died from something else than the administered poison, Dr. J. H. Warvel, pathologist of the Indianapolis Methodist Hospital, testified today.

He was the first witness of the day and the fourth medical expert called by the state in the trial of D. C. Stephenson, former "grand dragon" of the Ku Klux Klan, who is charged with the murder of Miss Oberholzer.

Dr. Warvel testified he had blood examinations of Miss Oberholzer while she lay on her deathbed after being taken home. His testimony, like that of his professional predecessors, was extremely technical.

LEM MOTLOW TO RESIST TRIAL AT INDIANAPOLIS

Wealthy Distiller and Two Associates in Jack Daniel Deal Give Bond at Nashville, Tenn.

THREE OTHERS ASK FOR HEARING HERE

One Purpose of Indiana Indictments Was to Remove Case From Possible
St. Louis Influences.

Lem Motlow, wealthy Tennessee distiller, and his two associates in the sale of 894 barrels of Jack Daniel whisky to a syndicate headed by George Remus, will resist the attempt of the Federal Government to try them in Indianapolis, with the 26 others indicted there last Saturday, for the conspiracy involved in the "milking" of 893 barrels in the warehouse here and its sale by bootleggers at a $15,000 profit.

Motlow, Tom Heffernan and Henry L. Dahlman appeared before a United States Commissioner in Nashville, Tenn., yesterday and gave bonds of $5000 each for their appearance before the commission for a preliminary hearing. Their lawyers asked that the hearing be set for Dec. 1, but the date was not announced by the commissioner.

Has St. Louis Counsel.
Patrick H. Cullen, St. Louis attorney for the three men, and their Tennessee counsel, Seth Walker and Attorneys Parks and Lamb, represented them before the commissioner. In Nashville, Cullen was chief St. Louis counsel for Motlow when he was tried here a year ago for the murder of a Pullman conductor, an acquittal resulting.

The three Tennessee defendants will not appear for arraignment in Indianapolis Saturday, as will most of the indicted men given bond in St. Louis. It was learned that their counsel plan, at the time of the preliminary hearing in Nashville, or later, to attack the jurisdiction of the Indianapolis court. At least three grounds will be cited.

First, it will be urged that the three defendants were indicted in St. Louis on the same charge, that they are due to appear here for trial Jan. 11, and that their counsel have sought unsuccessfully to bring them to trial and to obtain a reversal of their cases from those of the 14 other defendants in the St. Louis cases.

Other Contentions.
Second, it will be pleaded that the indictments in the indictments occurred a considerable time after the three Tennessee defendants had sold their whisky for $125,000, and that the persons alleged to have performed the overt acts are persons whom the three defendants did not know.

Third, it will be argued that the Government cannot show probable cause of guilt. It is contended that the sale of the whisky was not on a legitimate transaction, but was a sale at the time to the proper Government officials, and had their approval.

Three of those who have given bond here, Michael Whalen, Dan O'Neill and Tony Foley, elected to demand a preliminary hearing here and accordingly they will not be arraigned in Indianapolis Saturday. Their attorney, William Baer, has not said whether he plans an attack on the jurisdiction of the Indianapolis court, but it is understood that such a move is being considered. The preliminary hearing of Whalen, O'Neill and Foley is set for Nov. 12.

J. R. Marshall, special Assistant Attorney-General, who aided in presenting the cases to the Federal jury at Indianapolis, today conferred with District Attorney Curry, and asked United States Commissioner Atkins to advance the date of the preliminary hearings of Whalen, O'Neill and Foley to tomorrow or Friday, so that the issue of jurisdiction might be met at once. Atkins communicated with Attorney Baer, who refused to agree to the change in date.

Marshall said he would make a further effort to have the hearings before the Commissioner advanced, and to have as many as possible of the defendants in Indianapolis for arraignment. He said the issue of jurisdiction was a simple one, and that it should be possible to settle it without long argument.

While the unlawful removal of the whisky occurred in St. Louis, the Indianapolis Federal court has jurisdiction, because of the arrest in Indianapolis of John Marcus, former convict and run-runner, who was in charge of an automobile load of Jack Daniel whisky. This, the Indiana Federal Prosecutor believes, furnished the case needed to place the entire case in the jurisdiction.

Prime Purpose in Move.
A prime purpose in the voting of the Indiana indictments was to remove the case from the sphere of St. Louis political influence. Some of the defendants are politically influential, the list including Arnold J. Hellmich, suspended Coling him as "Judge" and "Your Honor."

Got 50 Per Cent of Tuition. According to testimony yesterday, it was during his testimony yesterday that Adcox declared Briggs had appointed him a solicitor of students for P. and S. College upon the 50-50 basis previously mentioned.

"The appointment provided I was to get 50 per cent of tuition money paid by juniors and seniors," Adcox said. "For freshmen and sophomores I was to get 50 per cent after laboratory fees had been deducted."

Adcox said that ordinarily he collected the student's tuition money and paid it to Dr. Briggs. Financial settlement was made at the close of each year, he said, and the agreement, made in 1916, was followed up to 1923.

"Tuition $150 and up," Adcox smiled broadly when asked whether students were always asked to pay $150, the annual tuition fee stated in the school's catalogue.

"The charge was based on how much the student had and how badly he wanted to graduate," the witness said. "I charged as much as I could get—double, triple and sometimes quadruple the regular tuition fee, I expect."

According to Adcox, his students frequently entered as late as Christmas and got credit for attendance at classes from the beginning of the term in October.

"And there were plenty of cases," he added, "where students matriculated in October, went right home and got their degrees the next spring without ever having attended a class. Look at the catalogue."

"Was Dr. Briggs familiar with that practice?" asked Assistant Attorney-General Caruthers, for the state. "He was, sir," Adcox replied.

An "Indefinite Excuse."
The witness recalled that in the case of one Drazer, a prospective physician, the student attended the college for one semester, offering four years' credits from the Pacific Medical College, an extinct institution. In December he got "an indefinite excuse," as Adcox expressed it, from Dr. Briggs and went home.

"He didn't return for graduation," the witness said. "But his diploma was mailed to him in California, where he lived. He was charged $500 or $600."

Another student, Harry J. O'Connor of Chicago, matriculated in 1916, according to Adcox, but did not attend classes.

"Four or five years later he came back to get his diploma," the witness said, "and there was a big squabble. Finally they gave him a 1912 diploma along about 1923. He had to pay $200 additional to get it."

Director of Internal Revenue here, State Senator Mike Kinney, former Circuit Clerk Nat Goldstein and former Congressman Fred Easen.

Aside from political influences, it is believed that a Federal court jury in Indianapolis would be likely to contain more dry-minded jurors than one in St. Louis. Jurors in the Indianapolis Federal court are drawn in considerable part from rural districts where dry sentiment is strong, as contrasted with the sentiment of St. Louis and adjacent counties.

Mrs. Imogene Remus of Cincinnati, one of the 39 defendants in the Indiana cases, and also one of the 17 indicted in the same case here, was in St. Louis yesterday. It was learned today. She did some shopping and called up a few friends, but did not call on the Federal authorities to give a new bond.

Thomas F. McCafferty, one of the alleged purchasers of the whisky, gave bond here late yesterday afternoon on the Indianapolis charge. Those being sought by the St. Louis police are John Marcus, Leonard Stone, Harry (Fat) Levin, Edward J. O'Hare, and one Houlihan, whose initials are said by Chief of Detectives Kaiser to be J. J.

SHOOTS WIFE AND HER FATHER, THEN ENDS LIFE

Shirley T. Wing, Former Rhodes Scholar and Army
Captain Dranged.

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 4.—Shirley T. Wing, former Rhodes scholar and at one time attaché of the American embassy in Paris, shot and wounded his wife, Mrs. Marjorie Meeker Wing, and her father, Claude Meeker, Columbus broker, and then killed himself in the Wing home in Worthington, near here, last night. Mrs. Wing, locked in a room with her husband, pleaded for an hour for her life, the shooting apparently having been precipitated by the arrival of her father, who demanded admittance.

Mrs. Wing and her father are in a Columbus hospital, each with bullet wounds in the thigh. Wing, who had been separated from his wife for four months, died almost instantly, with a bullet in his heart. Mrs. Wing's mother declared that the tragedy was due to Wing's mental condition. She asserted he had been nervous and distraught.

"It was not entirely unexpected," she said last night. "I had heard that Mrs. Wing told her mother and father that she was going to shoot her husband and her father."

Declared He Would Kill Her.
Mrs. Wing told her mother and father that she was going to shoot her husband and her father. She said she was going to shoot her husband and her father. She said she was going to shoot her husband and her father.

At 6 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Meeker arrived to take their daughter to the hospital. Mrs. Meeker waited in their automobile. Mr. Meeker went into the house. He said his daughter called to him that she was locked in her room with her husband. Mr. Meeker demanded admittance. When he reached out through a window and fired two shots at him, one lodging in the fleshy part of his right thigh. Neither Meeker nor his daughter is injured seriously.

Making his way back to his automobile, Meeker went to Worthington, where he received first aid. In the meantime, a maid in the Wing home had notified Worthington officials. When they arrived, Mrs. Wing told them the key from the pocket of her husband's coat and had crawled downstairs. Worthington constables said they found Wing's automatic revolver, lying by his side.

Wife Is Writer and Poet.
Mrs. Wing had been married before, her former husband having been John Gatling of New York. She has attained national recognition as a poet and prose writer. She is 32 years old.

Wing, 40 years of age, was a son of Charles M. Wing, president of a local bank, in the bond department of which he was employed. He was a captain in the World War, serving as a liaison officer between the French and American armies.

CLAYTON POLICEMAN HELD
ACCUSED OF THEFT OF TIRES

John H. Rietter, Under $1000
Bond, Declares That His Arrest Is a Frameup.

John H. Rietter, the Clayton policeman held under $1000 bond today, charged with grand larceny in the alleged theft of three automobile tires.

His arrest, he declared today, was a "frameup" growing out of a complaint of Chief of Police Manion by the Clayton police board on complaint of a citizen who said the chief fired at him without reason. "I put them next to Manion and I was expecting something like this to happen," Rietter said.

Rietter was arrested on the complaint of A. C. Johnson, 7909 Loraine avenue, Maplewood, who said the officer arranged to remove his automobile to a garage after an accident. Rietter said he was driving the car when it was damaged. When he claimed the car, Johnson said, three tires were missing. He identified three tires as Rietter's automobile as his.

MANY ABOARD LINER HURT IN STORM AT SEA

Berengaria, Half a Day Late at Cherbourg, Ran Into Tempest Saturday.

By the Associated Press.
CHERBOURG, Nov. 4.—Thrown to the deck by the plunge of the steamer Berengaria into a gigantic wave last Saturday, a large number of passengers and members of the crew of the liner were injured.

The Berengaria, which left New York Oct. 28 for Cherbourg and Southampton, met with a succession of storms throughout the voyage, culminating on Saturday in a tempest which the commander declared was the worst he ever had encountered during his 32 years of seafaring.

When the Berengaria came into port last night to discharge her Cherbourg passengers, some 50 of them had arms in splints and heads bandaged and were suffering from sprained legs.

The steamer was a half day late in reaching the port. On Saturday, when the vessel ran into the big tempest, one big wave threw her on her beam's end and the passengers and members of the crew who were on deck were knocked off their feet and thrown violently to the floor. It was this wave that was responsible for many of the casualties. The steamer was in the midst of the storm for 24 hours.

After debarking her passengers here the Berengaria proceeded for Southampton.

Among the prominent persons on board the Berengaria when she sailed from New York last Wednesday were Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Mrs. J. Borden Hamman, Viscount Gage, Sir Harry and Lady Peel, Chief Amos III, king of the Gold Coast, Africa; Basil Miles of the International Chamber of Commerce in Paris, and Mrs. Miles, and Basil Hamilton, first lord of the prime minister of Great Britain.

Damage of $8000 to Liner's Furniture and Crockery.
By the Associated Press.
SOUTHAMPTON, England, Nov. 4.—Twenty-six passengers arriving here on the Cunarder Berengaria were injured during the liner's stormy passage from New York. The damage caused to the furniture and crockery of the vessel by the buffeting waves is estimated at more than $8000 (about $9000). The injuries suffered by the passengers were trifling except in the case of a second class English passenger, who suffered a fractured arm and rib, a severe gash across the nose and bad leg bruises.

The passengers paid tribute to Capt. W. R. D. Irvine for his admirable handling of the ship during the storm and also to the coolness of the crew, which, it is stated, averted a possible panic.

MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE VOTE
FAVORS CHANGE IN RULES

Regulation of Price Fluctuation
and Balloting by Mail Among Proposals Adopted.

Changes in the rules of the Merchants' Exchange, providing for a committee on business conduct, the regulation of wide price swings and voting by mail were adopted by large majorities at an election yesterday.

The rules were approved by Secretary of Agriculture Jardine to eliminate manipulation of the market by the speculative element and to improve the operation of the grain exchange in future transactions.

The Merchants' Exchange now has the same rules in regard to these matters as have the Chicago, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Milwaukee and Duluth exchanges.

A fourth rule for the election of having the necessary two-thirds majority of all votes cast. This rule would have abolished the caucus method of nominating candidates for exchange offices and would have substituted a nominating committee to propose candidates 30 days prior to each election.

The Merchants' Exchange has about 700 members, including 165 outside of St. Louis.

WHICH?

CCHARMING, rich and alone, Rhoda Fair must choose WHICH road and WHICH man. She has put the Atlantic between herself and "Jaunty" Bailey, between the police and the stolen jewels, when suddenly out of the dark comes a voice—the voice of "Jaunty."

Can new environment and new spiritual influences wipe out criminal tendencies that are supposed to pass on irrevocably by the laws of heredity? Rhoda Fair inherited a name and a fortune from a mother who was internationally notorious as a law-breaker. Every cultural influence that money could buy was provided for the daughter from childhood, yet her home had been a meeting place for the aristocrats of the underworld.

Suddenly left an orphan, she must choose between the friends and allies of her mother and the law-abiding world she had been trained for.

Two men come swiftly into her life at the start—"Jaunty" Bailey—hunted by the police—and Paul Dare, a brilliant young college professor, who was everything on the side of respectability that the handsome and debonaire crackman was not.

Rhoda Fair, by Clarence Budington Kelland, is as thrilling a tale of adventure as you have read in many a year—and a remarkable delineation of one of the finest women in contemporary fiction. Beginning in the November issue of THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL, now on sale, ten cents.

PAUL DARE

The clever young college professor, brilliant and bitter, brutally honest; with "protesting eyes" and a steel-cold mind, as impressively fair as it is mercilessly penetrating.

MRS. SIDNEY DREW, FILM ACTRESS, DIES

With Her Late Husband She Appeared in Screen Comedies—Born in Sedalia.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 4.—Lucille McVey Drew, widow of the actor, Sidney Drew, stage and screen partner of her husband in many a popular comedy of married life, died at her home here last night at the age of 35.
Since the death of Mr. Drew in 1919, his widow was seldom seen on the screen.
Her motion picture career began with their romance, when they met on the old Vitagraph lot. They rose to film fame together and when death dissolved their partnership, Mrs. Drew lost interest in the screen. She wrote several of the picture plays in which she and her husband appeared.
Mrs. Drew was the second wife of the actor, who was an uncle of John Barrymore. She is survived by a sister and two brothers.
Funeral arrangements had not been completed early today.
Mrs. Drew, who before her marriage was Lucille McVey, was born in Sedalia, Mo., in 1890. After appearing as an entertainer on the Lyceum circuit and on the stage she joined the staff of the old Vitagraph company.
Sidney Drew died in 1919. He was a brother of John Drew and an uncle of Ethel, Lionel and John Barrymore.
Native of Sedalia, Mo., Mrs. Drew Early Took Up Theatricals.
By the Associated Press.
SEDALIA, Mo., Nov. 4.—Mrs. Sidney Drew, whose death occurred at Los Angeles, was born in Sedalia in 1890, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. McVey, and when in school took active part in numerous amateur theatricals and was a popular reader. Later she took up lyceum work, then vaudeville.

MEXICAN DEPUTIES COLLECT BONUSES DESPITE PROTEST
They Voted Themselves $1500 Each for Expenses in Celebrating National Holidays.
Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publishing Co., New York, World and Post-Dispatch.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4.—Regardless of economic conditions and the fact that foreign obligations are left unpaid, members of the Chamber of Deputies yesterday collected 3000 pesos (about $1500) as a special bonus for extraordinary expenditures in connection with the recent national holidays, Sept. 15 and 16. The bonus had been announced as the holidays approached and a protest was made by the newspapers which attacked the action. Articles were printed showing just how many useful dispositions could be made with the 1,000,000 pesos the Deputies needed for this pleasure.

The roar silenced the clamors of the Deputies and drowned their arguments and it was believed the payment would not be made. But a month later the newspapers discovered the Deputies had not foregone their money. The Deputies now have collected the bonus in full.

M. E. Missionary Society Adjourns.
By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 4.—The entire general staff of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church was re-elected yesterday at the closing session of the annual convention. Mrs. Thomas Nicholson, wife of Bishop Nicholson of the Detroit area of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was elected president for the fifth time. A budget for $2,335,000 was adopted.

25 MORE SUITS FILED ON MASONIC TEMPLE

About $3000 Worth of Claims Were Turned Into Judgments Yesterday.

Twenty-five additional suits against subscribers alleged to have pledged to pay pledges for the new Masonic Temple were filed in Christian Court today, seeking a total of $2210. Previously 5 such suits had been filed in a Justice of the Peace Court.

One of today's suits is against Carl M. Johnston, vice president of the United States Bank, for $100, which, according to the petition, he pledged to pay "when my judgment and conscience permit me."

The suit declares that the final payment was due last September,
that Johnston's proviso allowed only reasonable grace in the eyes of the law, and that reasonable time for payment had elapsed.

Others named in suits and amounts sought are: George P. Skouras, Bourbon Hotel, $300; Thomas F.
Lane, $555; Maple, $100; Peter
Chase, $331A Franklin avenue,
$100; Irving W. Chisholm, 3324

thorne place, $50; Paul Burnell,

W. Chisell, 5509 Michigan avenue,
$10; Joseph R. Cathcart, 6223 West Park avenue, $50; Charles D. Carlson, 3469 Labadie avenue, $10; F.
A. Cafferata, 4170A Flad avenue,
$100; Mrs. Birdie Byrne, 1242
North Kingshighway, $100; Sidney
Busch, 5558 Delmar boulevard, $100; Thomas F. Burke, 2902 Eads avenue, $100; Arthur L. Beindick, 3322 Smiley avenue, $50; William Bradford, 4223A Junata street, $50; Edwin A. Boeck, 4447 Gangart place, $50; W. F. Bridell, 5968

boulevard, $50; Louis Borlinghouse, 525 Taft avenue, $100; Dr. E.

nue, $100; J. R. Brock, 4441 Olive street, $50; R. A. Brink, 4452
Washington boulevard, $10.

Of about 45,000 subscribers who made pledges for the temple in 1922, about 7000 have not paid, the Masonic Temple Association attorney said, but those of the latter group who have good excuses are not to be sued.

Approximately $3000 worth of liquid contributions were converted into judgments, yesterday,
a Justice of the Peace Moore's court. Eighty-five suits against debtor donors to the Masonic temple building fund were on the court docket, and 25 judgments
were returned, thirty-one cases were continued, and 13 suits were dismissed. The suits were uncontested.

Several thousand other suits
are yet to be filed, according to W. L. Cogda, attorney for the Masonic Temple Association. As related previously in the Post-Dispatch, the suits are against those who voluntarily signed pledge cards, by which they agreed to make a sum of money to defray the expenses of erecting the new Masonic Temple, at Lindell boulevard and Spring avenue. The pledge cards constituted legal contracts, it has been held by the court.

"I had a very bad case of eczema

REVIVALIST'S MEETING AT UNIVERSITY BARRED

Evangelist Williams Says He Was Denied Permission to Conduct Prayer Service.

Evangelist Howard S. Williams, in his address in the Delmar-Hann (Hann) Tabernacle last night, said that permission had been refused to himself and his associated workers to hold a prayer meeting in "one of our universities." He did not name the institution.

"They told us that we couldn't hold a meeting there because they believed in evolution," Williams declared. "And I hear, too," he continued, "that they have a Y. M. C. A. secretary at that school who believes in evolution. I'm going to find out if that is true, and if it is, and if the Y. M. C. A. organization doesn't repudiate him, I shall not give another dollar to the Y. M. C. A."

Williams spoke on John 3:16. "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in Him might not perish, but have everlasting life." Seven hit the trail, including Mrs. A. E. Myrtinger, 4856 Northland avenue for whose conversion her husband had prayed Sunday night after he had responded to the evangelist's appeal.

Faith is the biggest stumbling block in the way of many who are seeking salvation," the evangelist declared. "We must take the Bible literally. If we don't take it literally, how can we take it? I take it on faith. If you don't believe the story about the whale swallowing Jonah, you can't believe that Christ rose from the dead or that He was born of the Virgin Mary, because they are far greater miracles than a man living in the stomach of a big whale for three days."

Admonishes Modernists. "Listen, you modernists, Jesus Christ came to rescue us from sin, not to set an example, not to educate us. If he didn't, what did he come for? Any good man could have been a good example to us. Jesus was your sacrifice and mine. I've got to acknowledge that he paid the penalty for my sin. I know it's not a popular doctrine here, but it's popular in heaven. I can see by your faces that a lot of you don't agree with me. I've got as much sense and education, but perhaps not as much money, as any of you. But I've got on thing that you haven't got, and that's faith. There is none other name given before men whereby ye shall be saved. I'll give any of you five minutes to get up on this platform and name anybody else."

Williams and his party visited the United States Veterans' Bureau Hospital yesterday afternoon and entertained the soldiers. The evangelist gave them a brief gospel message. A prayer meeting was held at the Loose-Wiles Biscuit Co. yesterday. Today's noon meeting was held at the Columbia Canning Co. Tomorrow the party will be guests of the Rotary Club.

POLICE MARKSMANSHIP
COURSE ENLARGED

Target Practice Doubled and Longer Training Period for Recruits Is Ordered.

An intensive course in marksmanship, to enable all policemen to shoot to kill when necessary, was ordered by the Board of Police Commissioners today, at the conclusion of a three-day inspection of the department's men and materials.

The traffic squad was the last to be inspected. One of its members, Traffic Policeman Miner, was presented with a gold medal for being the champion marksman of the department last year.

Patrolman Nick Bosch, overseas veteran, who was in the regular army for seven years, has been appointed acting Drillmaster in charge of marksmanship classes, assisted by Patrolmen John C. Criswell, Nary Phillips, Frank Evans and Joseph Murray, all crack shots. A civilian, Louis M. Ramsey Jr., has volunteered to give instructions in the use of Lewis and Thompson machine guns.

To Double Instruction.
The 30 shots per year—per man scheduled heretofore—maintained for revolver practice at the Laclede District range will be doubled, beginning Monday. The policemen must shoot at stationary and moving targets. Those who attain an average of 240 or more out of a possible 300 points will be rated "experts" those with 210 will be "marksmen" and those with 180 will be "first-class shots." Those who fail to attain 180 will be given further instruction.

The three best shots will be awarded gold, silver and bronze medals annually. In addition, buttons will be awarded to those who qualify as "experts." The medal becomes the permanent property of the winner, but the button must be surrendered if the winner fails to maintain his good work.

The target practice will be held outside regular police hours. For instance, the first platoon, which goes on duty at 3 p. m., will shoot between 8 a. m. and 1 p. m.

A special program for detectives has been arranged. Among other things, they will have to fire riot guns at a moving target while they are in a moving automobile.

"The best friend a policeman can have in time of need is his gun, and we believe it is absolutely necessary for him to become thoroughly familiar with its use and mechanism," said Chief of Police Gerk.

More Training Planned.
Reorganization and expansion of the School of Instruction of the Police department also is under way. The 30-day period of training for recruits will be extended to 60 or 90 days. Lectures by traffic experts and criminal attorneys will be in the curriculum. The school quarters are at the Magnolia Avenue Station.

Lieut. James H. McNamara, who has recovered from serious gunshot wounds suffered in an encounter with a negro, has been placed in charge of the school. Lieut. Elias W. Hoagland has been transferred from the Newstead Avenue District to the North Market Street District, succeeding McNamara there.

Lieut. August Deatherage has been transferred from the Carondelet District to the Newstead, The Carondelet Lieutenantship will be filled temporarily by a sergeant.

Police Commissioner Magoon, who will supervise the school, hopes to make it the equal of any police academy in the country.

E. ST. LOUISAN SUES INSURANCE
FIRM FOR $5165 JUDGMENT

Youth Was Committed to Jail Under Debtor Law After Company Refused to Pay Claim.

William Schneider of East St. Louis, 20 years old, who spent Oct. 1 to jail at Belleville under the Illinois debtor law for nonpayment of a $3000 judgment, obtained against him, has filed suit in the City Court at East St. Louis to recover the amount of the judgment and costs amounting to $5165, from the Fort Dearborn Casualty Co. of Chicago.

Schneider alleges in his declaration that he has now paid Albert Schick, who was injured when struck by an automobile driven by Schneider, the amount of the judgment, although at the time having been protected by a $10,000 liability insurance policy.

Counsel for Schick had caused Schneider's commitment to jail after the insurance company refused to pay the judgment.

Counsel for the company claimed that the judgment meant no loss to Schneider, as he was insolvent. Schneider was released from jail on a habeas corpus proceeding brought before Judge W. R. Weber of the St. Clair County Court on the same day he was imprisoned.

FREEZE TO BE NAMED WORKHOUSE WARDEN

Father-in-Law of Mayor's Campaign Manager Passes Second Examination.

Director of Public Welfare Salisbury announced today that he would give permanent appointment as Warden of the City Workhouse to Elisha C. Freeze, father-in-law of Robert J. Kratky, Mayor Miller's campaign manager. Freeze was appointed temporary warden June 1. At a subsequent Efficiency Board examination, he failed to make the passing grade of 70, while Frank J. Primavest and John M. McCully were above that grade. Director Salisbury thereupon appointed Primavest Warden of the City Jail and ordered a second examination, despite protests in behalf of McCully.

Results of the second examination were announced today. Clay Pratt of 4334 Devonshire, who retired with the rank of Major after 33 years in the army, was first with a percentage of 94.82, including 5 per cent for military service; Freeze was second with 85.5, and Charles D. Comfort of 4610 South Broadway, was next with 76.81. Two others failed to make 70. McCully did not take the examination. Chairman Kirchoff of the Efficiency Board today said he would ask McCully whether he had withdrawn his candidacy and if so the names of Pratt, Freeze and Comfort will be certified as eligibles to Director Salisbury. If McCully has not withdrawn, he, and not Comfort, will be on the list, as McCully averaged 83 per cent in the first test. It matters not, however, as Director Salisbury will appoint Freeze.

The Warden of the Workhouse receives $200 a month salary and maintenance. After the first year, the salary is $225.

FOUR YOUTHS SENTENCED FOR VENICE BANK HOLDUP

Three Got from 10 Years to Life in Pontiac Reformatory; Lighter Term for Fourth.
Four St. Louis youths, indicted for the attempted robbery of the Venice State Bank at Venice, Ill., last July 24, were sentenced today to terms in the State Reformatory at Pontiac on pleas of guilty, by Judge J. F. Gillham in the Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville. They are Charles Barry, 22 years old; John Gallery, alias John Collins, 18; and Francis Barry, 19, who were given sentences of from 10 years to life, each; and Thomas Kelly, 18, who, because he was not armed, drew a lighter sentence of from three to 20 years.

The quartet was captured by a squad under the direction of Joseph Schrader, a private detective employed by Southern Illinois bankers, who had learned that the robbery would be attempted and arranged for a bogus payroll, to be received by I. H. Hunter, cashier of the bank. Shortly after Hunter obtained the money sack from the railroad station at Venice, the four youths, in an automobile, held him up.

A volley from the officers after the sack had been transferred, stopped the robbers' car, and they surrendered after a pitched battle, during which more than 40 shots were fired into their automobile, behind which they had taken refuge.

Girl, 15, Severely Scalded.
Loise Harrington, 15 years old, is at city hospital suffering from burns of the neck and arms. At 7 p. m. yesterday she accidentally overturned a kettle of boiling water, while preparing supper for her father, James, at their home, 920 Benton street. Her condition is serious.

A Joy Glass

To start the day right
To eliminate the waste

When you rise in the morning feeling dull, it is probably because the system is clogged with poison and waste.

Eliminate that poison as quickly as you can. This is the easy, pleasant way.

Drink a glass of water, hot or cold. Add a little Jad Salts. That will make a sparkling drink. The result is to flush the intestines.

Don't wait. Don't say, "Tonight I will correct the conditions." A day will be lost. Correct them in an hour.

Then remember that the same results can come any hour of the day. Any hour you need them. They come in a quick, pleasant, gentle way. They come from acids of lemon and grape, combined with lithia, etc.

Let a test show you what Jad Salts mean. It will be a revelation. Send the coupon for a trial—now.

RICH YOUTH'S WEDDING RECALLS ESCAPADES

Both Col. Hayward's Stepson and Constance Bennett Have Been in the News.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Constance C. Bennett, movie actress, daughter of Richard Bennett, actor, over-looked an appointment yesterday afternoon with the press agent of a moving picture concern of which she is under contract. She was otherwise engaged. She was married to Philip M. Plant, wealthy stepson of Col. William Hayward, in Greenwich, Conn., at 2:30 a. m. yesterday by the same justice of the peace who officiated at mid-night four years ago when the actress, then 17 years old, married 18-year-old Chester Hunt, Moorehead of Chicago, a University of Virginia student, "on a dare." In six months the marriage was annulled by mutual agreement of the parents.

Having completed a picture near Hollywood three weeks ago, Miss Bennett in a moment of temperament, left the studio for New York. She was "offended," it is said, by the studio management's objection to Plant's presence on the lot.

Plant's Adventures.
Plant has had his adventures. Early on the morning of Nov. 1, 1920, while preparing for Yale, he was motoring from a New Haven football game. Beside him was Helene Jesmer, a showgirl. The car crashed into a tree on Pelham Park driveway, and the girl's beauty was marred. She appeared sobbing and veiled in court last May. In a suit against Plant for $500,000 for alleged breach of promise and destruction of her beauty, Plant settled the case for a sum reported to be about $75,000.

Last May the engagement of Miss Judith Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hunter Smith, to Plant was announced, then it was broken off.

Plant, said to be worth $2,000,000, is 24, the son of Sellen Mainwaring of Waterford, Conn. His mother obtained a divorce and married Morton F. Plant, son of Harry B. Plant, founder of the Plant fortune in Florida and Cuban railroads and hotels. The boy, adopted and made Plant's heir, took Plant's name. Widowed in 1918, Mrs. Plant married Col. Hayward.

Returned to New York.
Barbara Bennett, sister of Mrs. Plant, said that the bride and bridegroom returned here. She did not know whether Mrs. Plant would quit the movies. W. S. M. Fiske, justice of the peace, said the couple were accompanied by a Mr. and Mrs. Best.

Richard Bennett, father of the bride, was divorced April 22, last, by Adrienne Morrison, an actress. Since then he has announced his engagement to three or four other women, but still remains single.

GEN. BUTLER MUST RETURN TO MARINES, COOLIDGE SAYS
President Declines to Grant Him Further Leave to Continue as Police Head in Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—President Coolidge has announced his decision that Brigadier-General Smedley D. Butler must drop his temporary duties as head of the Philadelphia police force and return to the Marine Corps when his leave expires in January. Senator Pepper, Gov. Pinchott, Mayor Kendrick of Philadelphia and many others were unable to dissuade the President from this opinion.

President Coolidge in a letter to Mayor Kendrick said: "After having considered the request which you and Senator Pepper laid before me for further extension of the leave of Brigadier-General Butler from his duties in the Marine Corps in order that he might continue to serve as head of the police department of Philadelphia, I have come to the conclusion that the request ought not be granted. Nearly a year ago I gave you my views very fully. I supposed that you and the people of Philadelphia in keeping Gen. Butler accepted the conditions which I then made. Of course, I have every wish to help but I am convinced that there are no new elements which ought to cause me to recede from the position that I took last year."

ST. LOUISAN'S MUMMY DRAWS LIGHTER CROWD

This Perhaps Is Because Body Has Been on View Since Easter.

The mummified body of Joseph Marconnot, Carondelet reclus, in its $2700 bronze casket, again was the subject of inspection by hundreds of visitors to Mount Olive Cemetery, on Lemay Ferry road, last Sunday and Monday, holidays of the Catholic Church, dedicated especially to remembrance of the dead.

The crowds viewing the body in its massive casket through the glass door of the Marconnot family mausoleum this week, however, was considerably less than the throng that waited in line for a glimpse of the body when the casket was opened during the Easter holidays in April.

The exposition of the body in compliance with Marconnot's wishes, expressed in his will, Marconnot, who died Dec. 27, last, following a lingering illness, directed that his body be prepared for burial after the manner employed on the remains of King Tutankhamen and other Egyptian rulers and that the public be allowed to view the body on holidays of the Catholic Church, of which he was a member. Undertakers in charge of Marconnot's funeral apparently were successful in carrying out his wishes, for the body is reported to be as well preserved now as at the time of burial.

When the casket was opened last April at the direction of relatives no orders were given for its closing, and the body has been on view to visitors to the cemetery since. This fact is believed to be responsible for the decrease in the number of persons viewing the body during the last church holidays, as compared to the number visiting the mausoleum last April.

The body can be viewed only through the glass of the door, as the mausoleum is not opened for the public. Marconnot, who was unmarried, left an estate valued at $70,000 to two nephews and a niece, residents of Carondelet.

Easy to Keep Thick, Wavy, Beautiful

Girls! Try this! When combing and brushing your hair, just moisten your hair brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! You can dress your hair immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy, an abundance of gleamy, wavy hair, sparkling with life, incomparably soft, fresh, youthful. Besides beautifying the hair, a 35-cent bottle of refreshing, fragrant "Danderine" from any drug or toilet counter will do wonders, particularly if the hair is dry, brittle, faded or streaked with gray. It keeps the hair from constant curling and which burn the color, restores very life from any woman's hair. "Danderine" acts on the hair, fresh showers of rain and act on vegetation. It goes to the roots, invigorates, makes them stronger, stopping hair and helping the hair to grow thick, healthy and luxuriant.

$4.50 FINE ON FIRST DAY OUT
IN 1915 AUTO THAT COST $6

Youth, Accused Penalty for Failing to Have License, Tells Court He Sold Car to Former Owner.
It cost Alfred Karch, 21 years old, $4.50 and a lot of worry to drive and push his newly acquired Ford for a few blocks last Sunday. Newly acquired—not new; he paid his friend, Joe Minter, $6 for the full right, title and possession of a 1915 five-valve last Saturday, he told Police Judge Beck today.

Sunday he set out from his home at 4208 Farlin avenue with friends, after investing $1.50 in spark plugs. The car needed something besides spark plugs and Karch and his companions had to do considerable pushing in order to get as far as Kingshighway and Marcus avenue. There a motorcycle policeman was attracted by loud and unusual noises from the machine, by lack of a rear license and by the crank obscuring the front license.

Karch had to accept a summons before Judge Beck, who made him pay $3 in costs on the license charge but accepted his denial that the car had a muffler cut out to make the objectionable noise. Luck was not all against Karch, however. He said he sold the machine back to Minter yesterday for $6. Judge Beck congratulated him on his wisdom, saying other youths ought to get rid of cars they couldn't manage.

MRS. PAUL KESSLER ALLOWED
Agreement Reached by Opposing Counsel After Testimony in Her Suit Is Heard.

Mrs. Florence M. Kessler will receive $100 a month for the support of herself and 11-year-old daughter, by an agreement of opposing counsel made yesterday after she testified in her separate maintenance suit against Paul A. Kessler in Domestic Relations Court.

On the stand Mrs. Kessler named Miss Lillian Redell, a former model in the fur shop of Kessler's father, Alex F. Kessler, at 509 Locust street, as correspondent. She offered in evidence, before Judge Hartmann a bottle of scalp tonic and a bar of hotel soap. The tonic was in her husband's grip after an out-of-town trip, she said. Miss Redell once declared that particular brand was the only one she would use, the wife continued. The soap, bearing the imprint of a Chicago hotel, she found in his grip after a trip to "New York."

The Kesslers married in June, 1914, and separated Oct. 15, 1923. In an answer, Kessler denied the charges.

DOCTOR'S WIFE AWARDED
DIVORCE ON CROSS-BILL

Mrs. Doris Rebee Based Her Petition on General Grounds of Ungovernable Temper.

Mrs. Doris Rebee of 2355 South Thirty-ninth street was granted a divorce today on her cross-bill to the suit of her husband, Dr. Bert P. Rebee, a physician, with offices at 1821 South Broadway. Her maiden name, Nichols, was restored.

Dr. Rebee, in his petition, stated his temper led her publicly to throw water in his face and once to kick out the windshield of their automobile. She based her cross-bill on similar general grounds of ungovernable temper. They were married Aug. 2, 1923, and separated Feb. 4, 1925.

COOLIDGE COMMENDS CAPTAIN
Says Rescue of Crew Preserves Tradition of Merchant Marine.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Among the 5000 letters of congratulation received by Capt. Paul C. Grening before the liner President Harding sailed yesterday for Bremen was one from President Coolidge praising the captain and his crew for the part they played in the rescue of 28 men from the sinking Italian freighter Ignazio Florio in mid-ocean two weeks ago. The president extolled the seaman for "preserving the finest tradition of our merchant marine." The president's letter read:

"My Dear Captain Grening: I have just received the brief but stirring account of the rescue of the crew of the Italian steamer Ignazio Florio and I want to express to you and your men my thanks for this courageous action. It must be a source of gratification to every American that you have preserved the finest traditions of our merchant marine, and it is an added tribute that we have come to expect this courage and unhesitating bravery from those who man our vessels."

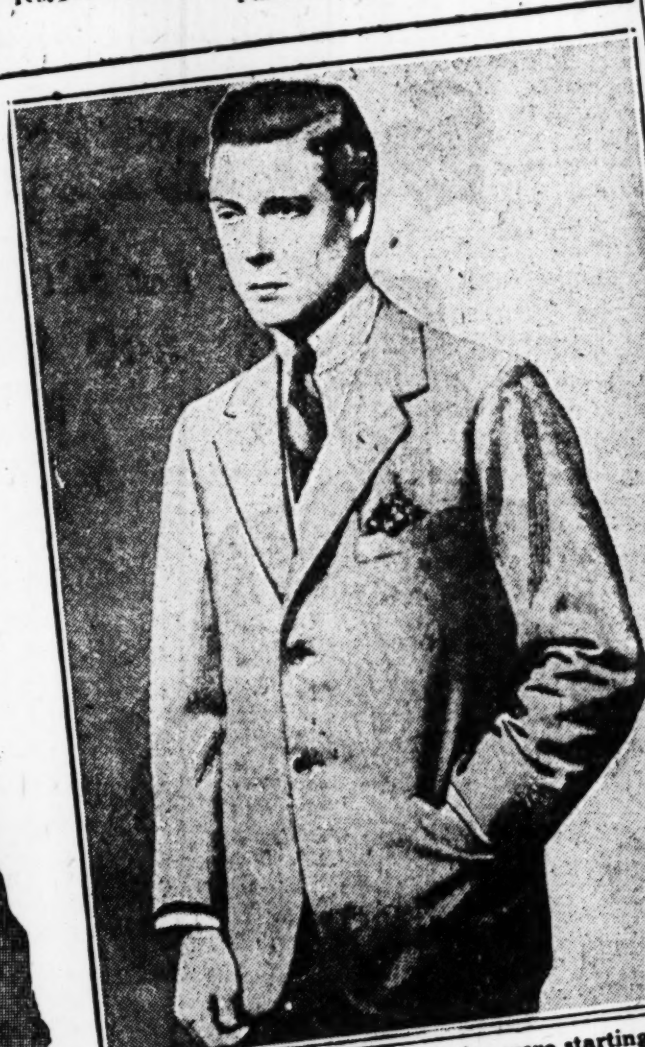

GIRL WHO KILLED FATHER FREE
By Associated Press.
GIRARD, Kan., Nov. 4.—Minnie Davis, 19 years old, of Midway, was justified in killing her step-father, Audie Faucet, a jury decided yesterday.

Faucet was killed as he sat in a chair in his home last May. The girl, who was found in the home of a neighbor, said she had killed him in self-defense. She declared he had mistreated her for two years, and that when she objected to his demands that day, he threatened to kill her. Then, she testified, she killed him.

WIFE FINDS MAN HANGED
Anton Wagner, 72 years old, was found dead hanging by a window sash cord in a shed at the rear of his home, 3160 South Compton avenue at 5 p. m. yesterday when his wife, Bertha, went to the shed to get some coal. He had been dead several hours.

The wife told policemen she had last seen her husband at 2 p. m. when he left the house for a walk. He had been out of employment for two years, she said, and was despondent and in ill health.

Are Ready-Made Clothes
Fashionable?
Yes, if You Consider the PRINCE OF WALES
Fashionable!

To fit an ordinary business suit made to order by a fashionable private tailor costs $125 to $150. These pictures should comfort millions of young men that haven't the time or money for that sort of thing. We prove to them here that the highly developed American art of producing ready-made clothing gives you the very latest fashions and will in fact make you look exactly like the Prince of Wales, sartorially, if that is what you WANT to look like. In the upper picture you see a photograph of the Prince of Wales, showing clearly his trip to South Africa and then wore when he started on his trip to South Africa and then on to South America, where he is now. Notice the details, the pocket for the handkerchief, the two pockets below, the buttons, ONLY TWO on the front of the coat; the coat lapels, the coat cut just low enough to show the upper part of the waistcoat. Then notice below the picture of the ready-made AMERICAN cost. WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE? The main difference is that the American coat is placed on a pair of broader shoulders and FITS BETTER. There isn't any other difference visible to the trained eye. You may be sure that the most fashionable English tailor lavished on the Prince of Wales' coat all the care, all the FASHION, all the "art" effects that sartorial science could possibly provide. And the American ready-made suit matches and surpasses it. These pictures prove to the young man of America that when he buys ready-made clothing, sold by a concern that has established its character through years of honest merchandising, he need not worry about FASHION. The main thing for a young man is to be WELL DRESSED and keep his clothes in good order. In the BEGINNING, at least, WE ARE JUDGED BY APPEARANCES. And, fortunately, WE CAN CONTROL APPEARANCES. See that you are dressed neatly, NOT conspicuously, but simply and FASHIONABLY. Neatness is not expensive, and it is "good business." The first impression that you make on others is THROUGH THE EYES. After that, what you think, what you say, WHAT YOU DO, does the rest. P. S.—This Prince of Wales coat and the fashionable American ready-made coat represent last Spring's fashions. After he comes back from South America this Fall the Prince, of course, will see his tailor and wear something a little different; and this Fall's ready-made AMERICAN fashions will be, if anything, one lap ahead of the Prince in "the very latest."

This is from the advertisement of a well-known firm that sells fashionable, ready-made clothes. What's the difference between this coat and the Prince of Wales' coat? NONE, except that the ready-made coat FITS BETTER.

HART SCHAFFNER & MARX STYLE

The picture of the Prince of Wales was taken just before his trip to South Africa
The other picture is from one of our advertisements that appeared a short time before the Prince went on this trip
The suit we showed then was almost identical with the one that the Prince appeared in later

The editorial stresses that point, too
It shows pretty clearly how far Hart Schaffner & Marx are leading in the matter of style

EIGHT PERSONS HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Driver Swerves Car After Striking Young Woman and Upsets Another Machine.

Eight persons were injured, several of them critically, in automobile accidents here last night and early today.

Three persons were injured at 7 p. m. when John Lamar, 21 years old, of 3850 De Tonty street, lost control of his machine in front of 3929 South Grand boulevard. Lamar's car, southbound, struck Miss Adelaide Shott, 32, living at 2663 Louisiana avenue, who was crossing the street. The machine then swerved to the east side of the street, colliding with the automobile of John Dooley, 38, of 3321 Mera-mee street, who was driving north. Dooley's car was overturned.

Injured Taken to Hospital.
Dooley and Miss Shott were taken to St. Anthony's Hospital, where it was found that Miss Shott, who was knocked against a parked automobile when struck by Lamar's car, had suffered a fractured right arm and internal injuries. Dooley was found to be suffering from a fractured left leg, fractured nose, and possible fracture of the skull. Physicians at City Hospital, where Lamar was ordered held prisoner, reported he had received a fracture of the left arm and a possible skull fracture.

Aaron Felberbaum, 60 years old, a tailor, 1238 Aubert avenue, suffered fractured ribs and internal injuries when he was struck by an automobile driven by John J. Raleigh, 4915 Lindell boulevard, at 6:30 p. m. while attempting to cross Euclid avenue near Page boulevard. Raleigh took Felberbaum to the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium and then reported the accident to police. He was not held.

Georgia Ruppert, 9 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ruppert, 2627 Park avenue, suffered a fractured skull at 4 p. m. yesterday, when she was struck by an automobile driven by Arthur Schmelt, 1304A St. Ange avenue, at Park and Ohio avenues. Schmelt, who was arrested, told police the girl ran in the path of his machine from behind a parked automobile. Georgia is at City Hospital in a serious condition.

Other Persons Hurt.
Others injured were: Rosewell Mennen, 20 years old, a student living at 3551 South Jefferson avenue, who suffered a fractured collarbone at 7:45 p. m. near his home, when he was struck by an automobile of Peter Niemeyer, 3134 California avenue. Mennen is at the Lutheran Hospital; Fred Roewkamp, 42 years old, living in Wellington, lacerated hand and possible internal injuries, received at 7:15 a. m. today, when the tongue of a wagon belonging to the Missouri Portland Cement Co. was driven through the side of his machine at Newstead and Eastern avenues, and Carl Tabor, 17 years old, 4339 Itaska street, lacerations of the face and neck, suffered at 7:30 a. m. when his machine collided with another automobile at California avenue and Cherokee street.

JOBLESS AND WORRIED OVER WIFE'S INJURY, MAN ENDS LIFE.
Laborer Shoots Self at His Home; Mate Recently Fractured Arm.
Christian Dettweiler, 62 years old, a laborer, ended his life by shooting himself in the head at his home, 1422 Blair avenue (rear), shortly before 8 a. m. today. Police, summoned by Dettweiler's wife, Margaret, found Dettweiler dead in bed with a bullet wound behind his right ear. A revolver lay beside the body. Mrs. Dettweiler, who suffered a fracture of an arm recently, told police that her injury and her husband's inability to find work caused him to become despondent. Dettweiler was formerly employed as a street cleaner.

POWERS ACCEPT TARIFF AUTONOMY PLAN FOR CHINA

American Delegation at Peking Submits Proposal for Putting Principle Into Effect by 1929.

CHINA TO ABOLISH INTER-PROVINCE TAX

Americans Ready to Authorize Revision of Schedule and Put Treaties Into Effect.

By the Associated Press.
PEKING, Nov. 4.—All the Powers represented in the Chinese conference have accepted the principle of tariff autonomy for China, and the American delegation has laid before the conference a detailed plan for putting this principle into effect not later than Jan. 1, 1929.

Spokesmen for Great Britain and Sweden, which hitherto had not definitely stated their acceptance of autonomy principle yesterday, announced their adherence to the idea.

China, through Dr. C. T. Wang, chairman of the Autonomy Committee, pledged herself to the abolition of the likin, or tax on inter-provincial commerce, before 1929. With the acceptance of the autonomy principle, the chief labor of the conference are shifted to its second committee, charged with framing interim measures to be adopted prior to the coming into effect of the new tariff regime. This committee will meet Friday.

The American delegation, in presenting its plan, yesterday stated that it is prepared to authorize the immediate levying of a surtax of 2 1/2 per cent in addition to the present general tariff of 5 per cent ad valorem, and as soon as the requisite schedules can be prepared the levying of a 5 per cent surtax on luxuries. The Americans then are prepared to proceed immediately to the negotiation of such agreements as may be necessary for putting into effect other provisions of the Washington treaties regarding China.

Reaffirming its adherence to the autonomy principle, the American statement said the delegation was prepared to negotiate a treaty giving effect to that principle, making provision for the abolition of all tariff restrictions in the existing treaties, and putting into effect a Chinese national tariff law. Article 1 of the American proposal provides that the surtaxes mentioned in the statement shall become effective Feb. 1, 1926, for the 2 1/2 per cent surtax, and July 1, 1926, for the luxury surtax, and that the increased revenues resulting from these levies are to be held by the customs administration subject to such disposal as may be agreed upon by this conference. Article 2 says that provision shall be made for levying the full amount of these surtaxes at all of China's land and sea frontiers.

Dr. Wang told the Associated Press correspondents that the American proposal affords a promising basis for settlement of the tariff question and expressed appreciation of the liberality and friendliness shown by the Powers in their effort to meet the views of the Chinese.

He said he believed the adjustment of the tariff problem would have a far-reaching effect toward the pacification of China. There were features of the proposed plan, he said, which he believed required modification, but on the whole, he was convinced that it would meet with popular approval in China.

Sir Ronald Macleay, the British Minister, expressed acceptance of the autonomy principle by formally declaring that his delegation was willing to submit for the ratification of their Government such measures as may be devised at the present conference with a view to securing within a reasonable period full realization of China's claim of complete liberty of action in matters relating to the tariff.

Eki Kikoi, chairman of the Japanese delegation, advanced a proposal similar to the American plan, but on the whole, he was convinced that it would meet with popular approval in China.

No Intellectual Liberty Under Rule of Soviets, Swedish Scholar Says

Natural Science Thrives, but Cultural Development Is at Standstill—Contrasts Ruined Capital of Czars With Moscow.

Following is the first of three articles translated from and including direct quotations from the report of investigations made in Russia by Prof. Heckscher, noted Swedish economist.

(Copyright, 1925.)
STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 14.—Prof. E. F. Heckscher, distinguished Swedish economist, has been visiting Russia and studying communism. His report is published in Dagens Nyheter.

Heckscher makes no attempt to minimize the distressful conditions of large sections of the Russian population. Yet he holds out no hope of an early end of the communist regime. He shows, rather, how it is being modified gradually by the pressure of economic forces, and—uncertainly and spasmodically—is shaping into a political organization which the Russian people will endure.

Prof. Heckscher contrasts Moscow and Leningrad. The latter, which he calls by its old name of St. Petersburg, he describes as a city with "decay" written in large letters all over it.

Whole Quarters Ruined.
"In many of the main streets," he says, "one sees ruin after ruin, often covering whole quarters. In most cases, only the walls are left. In one main thoroughfare, the Litnei Prospekt, there are lines of these huge skeletons. There could hardly be a more appalling spectacle than these ruins."

With the exception of a dozen barrack dwellings for workers, it seems that hardly a building has been begun or actually completed since the World War. A designer could not help drawing the conclusion that communism had paralyzed economic initiative and action.

"The people themselves convey a still stronger impression of decadence than do the streets," says Prof. Heckscher. "One may walk for hours without meeting a decently dressed person. They all present the same look of helpless shabbiness as do the streets and do not so much as attempt to look nice."

The use of motor power is seen mainly in a dirty service of electric cars. Automobiles are rare and most of those seen belong to the St. Petersburg soviet or to foreign consulates. Even motor trucks are rare.

People who live in St. Petersburg for any length of time express surprise that such an impression should exist. To them, St. Petersburg is almost dead compared with what it was half a year ago. There was a general clearing up before the anniversary gathering of the academy of science. The outside of many buildings have been painted. Even wearing apparel has improved.

Impression of Bankruptcy.
"Such facts add to the impression of bankruptcy conveyed to the traveler," adds Prof. Heckscher. All that made St. Petersburg great and magnificent has disappeared, not because it is now under communism, but primarily because it is no longer the capital. Since the second year of the World War, its population has decreased 1,000,000. "Moscow presents few of the

IMMIGRATION CONTROVERSY PLACED BEFORE COOLIDGE

Labor Secretary Davis Submits Developments in Case of Communist Curran of New York.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The Labor Department's case in the controversy with Immigration Commissioner Curran of New York has been laid before President Coolidge by Secretary of Labor Davis.

The controversy arose over a statement given to the press Aug. 7, in which Curran criticized the Immigration Bureau's new system of inspecting aliens abroad or on ships to permit them to land without power and a contract has been signed with the Irish Free State Government by the Siemens's Schuckert Electrical Co. of Berlin.

The expenditure involved is more than $5,000,000 ($25,000,000).

Tom Johnson, secretary of the Laborites, attacked the Government's acquiescence in the proposed wage arrangement of the German contractors. They offer only 32 shillings a week ($8) for laborers on the work. Johnson termed this a degradation to Irish labor and moved a resolution that the Dail refuse assent to the scheme unless a wage was guaranteed insuring a decent standard of living.

President Cosgrave argued that the wage offered was greater than agricultural wages in the Shannon district. He moved an amendment expressing the Dail's satisfaction in the wage arrangement. This was carried, 29 to 11.

FRENCH CHAMBER VOTES FAITH IN NEW MINISTRY

Premier Painleve Wins With Less Than Majority Vote, for Socialists Abstained From Balloting.

PROMISES TO ABOLISH PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS

Socialists Count on Fall of Ministry, and Expect Herriot to Regain Power With Radical Program.

(Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

PARIS, Nov. 4.—The new Painleve Government obtained a majority in the Chamber of Deputies because the Socialists, who had been given the choice by their party council of voting or of abstaining, abstained. At any moment they can vote against the Government, and so they have Painleve in their power.

Only 410 out of nearly 600 votes were cast last night, the Government getting 221 on the vote of confidence.

Painleve wished to avoid what happened, even going to the extraordinary length of informing in advance a group of Socialists, many of whom were not members of Parliament, what the ministerial declaration would contain. As he had framed the document to please them as far as he could without promising to give up the Syrian mandate and make peace in Morocco on any terms, he hoped he had won them, but after an all-night debate the National Council of the Socialist party decided it could not support or give even benevolent neutrality to Painleve.

Why They Did Not Vote.
Paul Faure, in the Chamber of Deputies, said the Socialists refused to vote because the Government was too timid in its financial reforms and refused to give up Syria and the Moroccan war.

To counterbalance the Socialist abstention, the Right also abstained from voting, not wishing to defeat Painleve in this way. The conservatives are waiting for the Socialists to break the Painleve Government in the form of forming a moderate coalition, under Brizard, or another financial crash, under Caillaux.

The Socialists foresee rather the downfall of the Painleve Government, and are waiting for the Government with the complete radical program.

What Socialists Demand.
The failure of the Socialists to support Painleve is declared to be not a rupture with the republic, but rather a maneuver by the Socialists to force the rest of the bloc to adopt a radical program, give up the Syrian mandate, sign peace with the Vatican and the Vatican, and give up the capital, Painleve in the ministerial address promised some of the things they want, such as the suppression of parochial schools, industrial insurance and housing, but not enough.

Painleve's financial plan is like Caillaux's. He wants to segregate the short term term bonds, which make it impossible to balance the budget, and create for them a sinking fund which is to be used to refinance the debt, and to increase the price at which lumber should be sold by them. The dismissal was in accord with a recommendation of the commission's lack of review, which reported lack of jurisdiction.

The majority statement declared the acts alleged were not in interest state commerce, but were confined to Cook County, Illinois, and therefore the commission did not have jurisdiction. As to assertions in the dissenting opinion that the association was granted a private informal hearing before the Board of Review at which no witnesses were sworn and no testimony taken, the majority said the course pursued was in accordance with custom and proper.

STATUE FOR U. S. CAST IN ITALY

American Independence Group Is 40 Feet Long, 35 Feet High.
By the Associated Press.
ROME, Nov. 4.—The Vigil foundry here virtually has completed a colossal monumental group representing "American Independence," made by the sculptor Gutzon Borglum, which will be sent to the Dail to be cast at the end of this year or early in 1926.

The monument, which is 40 feet long and 35 feet high, without its base, contains 16 full figures, 26 heads or busts, and two horse heads. It can be cut into 17 pieces for transportation, while the base can be cut into eight pieces.

ARGUMENTS ON FALL BRIBERY CASE APPEAL ARE HEARD

Question as to Prosecution Now Rests With District of Columbia Supreme Court.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Whether Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, and Edward L. Doheny, oil man, and his son, Edward L. Doheny Jr., are to be brought to trial on bribery charges growing out of the Senate oil investigation rests, for the present at least, with the District of Columbia Court of Appeals. Argument on the appeal of the Government from the decision of Chief Justice McCoy of the District Court quashing the indictments, were heard yesterday by the higher court, which then took the matter under advisement.

Questions propounded to counsel by members of the court during the argument were interpreted by some of those present as indicating a disposition to question the conclusion of the lower court that the indictments were illegal because Oliver E. Pagan, a special assistant to the Attorney-General, was present in the jury room without authority in law.

The indictments now at issue are those based upon the $100,000 transaction between the Dohenys and Fall so vividly described to the Senate Transportation Committee by the elder Doheny. It was this refusal that set at rest the question where Fall got the money to improve his New Mexico ranch holdings about the time he quit President Harding's Cabinet in 1922.

The official account declares the trouble started on the night of Oct. 18 when bandit gangs which had been operating in the outskirts entered the native quarters of the city. Joined by the lower classes, they overpowered the gendarmes and police and menaced the European quarter.

The rebels withdrew after eight cannot shots had been fired into the air but again attacked the next morning and partly surrounded the French troops in the Polygone, which is a sort of citadel.

It was only then, says the account, that the French high command, desirous of forcing a surrender, ordered the rebels to be engaged in a bloody combat, because a bombardment. This, it is declared, was maintained at a slow cadence and with shells of restricted strength, to avoid unnecessary destruction.

SHIP MOVEMENT PRECAUTIONARY

Measure, Washington Says.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Two American destroyers, the Coghlan and the Lamson, were sent from Alexandria, Egypt, to Beirut, today as a precautionary measure. American Consul Paul Knabenshue cabled the State Department that he had sent a message to the destroyers to proceed to Beirut, although there was no immediate danger to Americans in Damascus or Beirut.

TETUAN, Spanish Morocco, Nov. 4.—During the Rifian bombardment of Tetuan Friday, a shell destroyed the Nazleria mosque, killing an old woman and wounding several others. Considerable military activity is evident here, in contrast with the quiet of the past fortnight.

The Spaniards are making elaborate preparations in Alhucemas Bay for winter; they are erecting blockhouses, establishing dugouts and constructing roads and trenches. Their position is much more secure than it was 10 days ago.

Official Report French Lost 10 Killed in Damascus.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Nov. 4.—The French losses in the recent Damascus trouble, according to official advice reaching Paris today, were 10 killed, including three native soldiers, and 200 wounded. (This compares with previous unofficial reports estimating the deaths in the city at 100.) In addition, the dispatches say, the insurgents killed 50 Armenians and three Tripolitans. The damage to property was estimated at 50,000,000 paper francs (about $12,500,000). The reports emphasize the fact that no Europeans were wounded or hurt in any way. The losses are much smaller than had been previously reported.

The official account declares the trouble started on the night of Oct. 18 when bandit gangs which had been operating in the outskirts entered the native quarters of the city. Joined by the lower classes, they overpowered the gendarmes and police and menaced the European quarter.

The rebels withdrew after eight cannot shots had been fired into the air but again attacked the next morning and partly surrounded the French troops in the Polygone, which is a sort of citadel.

RESERVE OFFICERS TO OPPOSE AIR SERVICE BUDGET BOOST

Will Fight Against Proportionate Weakening of Other Arms of National Defense.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Formal notice that the national headquarters of the Reserve Officers' Association, speaking for nearly 100,000 reserve officers, proposed to fight in the next Congress, any proposal from the Budget Bureau to increase appropriations for the army air service at the expense of other branches of the army, is given by John Ross de la Field, a reserve Brigadier-General, and president of the association.

"Responding, as it is said, to the will of the people, it is believed that the budget officials plan an appropriation for the air service exceeding any previous peace-time figure," Gen. de la Field said in a formal statement.

"As the total amount of the War Department appropriation has already been fixed," he said, "it is apparent that if such a move actually reflects the attitude of the civilian mind and accordingly is carried through, the result can be nothing but disastrous. The size of our already pitifully small army will be reduced."

Gen. de la Field expressed belief that the public desired "the full development of our air forces" and favored "appropriation of sufficient additional funds for the normal development of an effective air force."

"But that the public would favor the carrying out of an air policy which would result in the weakening of the other arms of our defense and the probable destruction of the civilian components which are now being developed for the first time in our history, is unbelievable," he asserted.

THIS STORY IS ON LARDNER

Clerk Issues Capias for Arrest of Writer on Old Fine.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The last look Ring W. Lardner, writer, had at the city hall-county building here may prove a costly one, it was disclosed today. Mr. Lardner, who once lived here and now resides in New York, explained in a recent magazine advertisement that when he visited Chicago he always took a hotel room affording him a back look on the city-county headquarters so he could see "how the other half lives."

Claude Dyckman, a clerk in the Municipal Court Clerk's office, having read the advertisement, remembered a unpaid $50 fine assessed against Lardner six years ago, and caused the issuance of a capias for the arrest of the writer should he return and appear in the vicinity of the city hall.

JUDGES DEMAND MORE ICE

Coolers in Courtroom Too Warm; Allowance Is Exhausted.

Circuit Judges in the Municipal Courts Building are banded together in a fight for more ice. Circuit Judge Hartman today declared that there had been no ice in the water coolers for a week. In the opinion of Charles L. Cunningham, Associate Comptroller, the fight will be a futile one, for he said there is no money left in the ice fund.

In addressing a jury in his court, Circuit Judge Frey declared that unless ice is furnished the Judges within the next few days they will elect the supply committee of Judges at the courthouse to obtain an allowance with which to purchase ice.

Prince Escapes Unhurt and Treats Accident Nonchalantly.

Premier Indisposed to Course—Prefers to Alleviate Animosity of Workers and Capital.

DRIVE WILL REACT IN FAVOR OF REDS

Extremists Advocate Legislation Against Trade Union Levy—Leadership Challenged.

By A. G. GARDINER.
Noted English Liberal Editor. Special Radio to the Post-Dispatch. (Copyright, 1925.)

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A storm is blowing up in Government ranks on the subject of the war on labor. Prime Minister Baldwin is much indisposed to be drawn into a struggle which will embitter social relations at a time when his personal efforts are directed at allaying animosity between capital and labor. His hand, however, is being forced by his own die-hard Tory extremists who are trying to force Baldwin to bring in legislation directed against the trade union levy for political purposes.

Baldwin Does Not Agree.
The idea prevails that if the levy is rendered illegal, the labor party will be deprived of its financial resources and will be reduced to impotence.

Baldwin is not disposed to take that view. He is anxious to bring a better atmosphere into the relations between capital and labor and to promote something like an industrial concordat. He put his foot down last year on the proposal of his party to make war on the trade union levy, but the idea has been revived and McQuisted, one of his followers, now proposes to introduce a bill directed to that end.

Undoubtedly great support for the attack on the levy in the rank and file of the Government party, and the move is assuming something of the nature of a challenge to Baldwin's leadership, which is much too moderate to satisfy the die-hard.

The result of these things can only be to have the effect of consolidating Labor at the moment when Labor left to itself, promises to shake itself free from the Communist wing.

Shocked by Syrian News.
The correspondent does not remember an event which has shocked the public mind here as the bombardment of Damascus. The course of affairs in Syria has attracted little attention amid problems of the foreign situation which were more immediately pressing and the news of Gen. Sarraill's astonishing outrage came like an incredible episode of misadventure.

At first there was a disposition to discredit the story as a wild extravagance, but the facts do not mitigate the magnitude of the horror.

The position of the French Government is lamentable. Informal opinion here tends to dissociate it from direct responsibility for the infamy but its moral responsibility is involved as well as the credit of the whole French nation as a civilized people.

Repercussions of the event are more regrettable, coming as it does at the moment when the success of the Locarno conference has raised the highest hopes for the future when, under the new stimulus, the council of the League of Nations has intervened in the Balkan wrangle.

Grotesque Contrast.
The grotesque contrast between the support accorded by Briand to that intervention and the shameful vandalism of the French army in Syria pervades European affairs with the atmosphere of the lunatic asylum.

Apart from the chaotic condition of French affairs, prospects of the Locarno settlement being ratified are regarded as favorable.

Information from Germany points confidently to acceptance and opinion here is overwhelmingly in support of the Government.

Ramsay MacDonald, whose own protocol scheme was shelved by Austen Chamberlain, decisively supports the pact and his view will be endorsed by the labor party.

Watts means that so far England is concerned, the Locarno settlement will be adopted by the practically unanimous decision of Parliament.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Barbarism vs. Civilization.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
During the World War, France protested against the German barbarism, but what about France bombing and destroying the most beautiful and historic Temples of Syria. I wonder what the civilized nations call that, if it is not barbarism. Just because the Druse asked for their rights in their own country,
it is right to kill their women and children,
and destroy their homes?
The Druse did their best to help the allies in the World War, and it is right that the allies should know how the French Government is treating them.
France cannot pay her war debts to the United States, but is spending millions of dollars to terrorize the weaker nations, by destroying their homes, killing women and children, loading the bodies on camels and parading through the streets of Damascus, then laying them in rows in public places to frighten
and terrorize the Druse.
What does the civilized world think of this coming from a nation which claims to be civilized?
It was raised within 20 miles of Damascus. My father, mother, sister and relatives are now in the midst of these terrible scenes. An impartial investigation will prove that what I have said is true. The French maintain a strict censorship, the outside world knows only a part of the oppression and atrocities imposed on the Syrians by the French authorities.

Schools and Public Celebrations.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
If the Walter Runge Post of the American Legion would concentrate its efforts on the abolishment of some of the many holidays which are now in effect in the public schools of this city,
it would render a greater service than it could by advocating the establishment of another holiday.
The real significance in the observation of any historical date is not emphasized by turning the pupils loose in streets, on the contrary special observance
in the schools will do more to commemorate Armistice Day than half a dozen holidays.
The best thing that can be done is to encourage the School Board to have school on November 11 this year and succeeding years.

A Landlord's Viewpoint.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
NOTICING an article in your paper
regarding high rents and a proposed remedy for same, would like to state my experience as a landlord. From my experiences for the past 13 years I bought three pieces of property and I never have been able to get 6 per cent on my investment.
Tenants move out without notice and owe the last month's rent. It costs an other month's rent to fix the place up, regardless of the time. The basement is left full of ash, papers, bottles, grate
burnt out of furnace, etc.
If anyone wants to kick about high rents the best remedy is to buy a piece of property and rent it for an income.

Dignity in Public Speaking.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
The other evening I sat through a part of Mr. Williams' sermon (?) out on Delmar boulevard, and his present
religious outbursts brought vague recollections of an article I had read long ago
regarding his manner of delivery.
Upon reaching home I resurrected Prof. William D. MacClintock's "The Language of Business Letters" published in 1912. It is quoted from his chapter on the use of slang:
"In a friendly conversational conference
a bit of pat or picturesque slang is deliberately chosen, could not be objectionable, and may indeed facilitate matters greatly. But slang beyond forgiveness or tolerance is the buffoon who in a public speech or a so-called sermon, thinks it smart or funny or effective in any way to resort to slang things that are sacred or noble or of the gravest moral or moral import. He makes the irreparable and unexcusable error
of using slang in a public speech, but he has done NOTHING PERMANENT."
The above was published several years before Mr. Williams deserted newspaper work for public speaking as a means of livelihood. Almost prophetic, eh?

Bus Times.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
SOME of the present Board of Aldermen seem to be willing to have
St. Louis stay in the "back yonder" class by throwing as many obstacles in the path of the various bus lines as possible.
A bill is now before the committee to demand all buses to use pneumatic tires
of a specified make, when a solid tire
would be and is answering the purpose apparently just as well. Why not put cashion tires on street cars and make a few useless routes locally? The present Board of Aldermen ought to exume
some of the cable cars as I think buses
are a little ahead of their ideas.
You can go from Maplewood on a bus
in 22 minutes, in 14 minutes to a Manchester street car. And now they want to slow down the buses with pneumatic tires and punctures.

SAVE OUR REGIMENT.

Is St. Louis willing to allow its 138th Infantry Regiment to dwindle away?
After trying since March, 1924, to put the organization on a real military basis Col. Deitsch has resigned his command of the famous National Guard outfit, which has been identified with this city's life
and the country's history for generations.
When he took over the command of this unit it had practically no personnel and was $6000 in debt. Col.
Deitsch succeeded in wiping out the debt and creating a fund of $1600. He also succeeded in getting an enrollment of 269 men and 20 officers by dint of great effort. But now he is through.
Only four units in the two battalions are filled,
and the nine remaining units have been placed on probation by the Federal Militia Bureau, with the probability of being withdrawn by next February unless the ranks are filled by that time. For more than a year this condition of probation has lasted, and was extended from last August after a strength inspection made at that time.
Col. Deitsch cites St. Louis' apathy and indifference towards its National Guard unit as his reason for asking to be relieved. He claims to have approached nearly 600 business firms with regard to encouraging their men to enlist, and to have got a response from only a fifth of that number.
Until the World War, when it gained its great glory at St. Mihiel and in the Argonne, this National Guard outfit was known as the First Regiment. It was organized in 1852 and saw service in the Civil War. It served during the strike of 1887, and did valiant work after the terrible cyclonic storm of 1896. During the Spanish-American War it was concentrated at Chickamauga. In the border trouble of 1916, this regiment was the first to arrive at State Mobilization Camp at Nevada, Mo. It saw service in the Mexican mess and was riotously welcomed home. The 138th is the oldest, most beloved and distinguished military organization in the State.
But, in addition to the vast sentiment which demands that the 138th be held intact, there are other reasons for St. Louis to rally round its flag at this critical moment. The National Guard is our most important military body, next only to the regular army. It plays a vital role in the scheme of national defense. The regular army is small, the reserve is only a theoretical army. It is to the National Guard units the country must look in case of a great emergency. Besides its use in national crises, the National Guard has proved invaluable in local crises. If St. Louis should be so unfortunate as to be visited with such a disaster as occurred in 1896,
or should be so unfortunate as to experience an era
of violence, it would thank its stars for the presence of a well-trained body of citizen troops.
The apathy which discouraged Col. Deitsch can and must be overcome. The spirit of St. Louis demands that its distinguished and laurel-crowned regiment
be brought once again to an efficient organization.

AFRAID OF THE COMIC MEN?

Are the prohibitionists afraid of the humorists?
It looks like it. The Methodist Board of Temperance and Public Morals is demanding that Will Rogers and Sam Hellman cease poking fun, directly or indirectly, at the summary law which has set the country at loggerheads. The board wants the humorists and writers to "eliminate boogie arguments from humor, fiction and other neutral territory."
Meanwhile, the advocates of camelism expect to retain their own right of free speech, free propaganda
and attack on personal liberty, by sermon, lecture,
periodical and other methods of appeal for their pet
law. They do not expect that the humorists and writers will turn on them and say: "You ask us to shut up. Go gag yourselves, or read the Constitution!"
Well, it's a hard matter to silence a real humorist.
He'll break out somewhere. And he has a weapon at his command that will ultimately pierce the toughest armor of his enemies, insidiously but surely. Is not the real grievance of the camel drivers the fact that they have no such weapon? And does not that knowledge make them afraid of the issue?

WHAT'S ASKEW IN CALIFORNIA?

An editor living in the great open spaces of California has just been sentenced to jail for 1000 days
to expiate the crime of saying in his newspaper
things a certain Judge thought should not be said.
This happens just as Miss Charlotte Anita Whitney, nationally known club woman whose ancestors came to America in the Mayflower, is preparing to begin a sentence in a California penitentiary for her political views.
These instances indicate a harsh and narrow public opinion in the West's most resplendent State which offers a most disappointing contrast to its history, traditions and geography. Even in the East, where capital is massed in heavy phalanx, where the interests of property are alertly guarded, such flagrant invasions as these of the rights of free speech and liberty of thought are comparatively rare.
But that they should happen in the West, where we look for most of our liberal political ideas, is a sad commentary. What has happened to the descendants of the Forty-niners, those free spirits who laid the basis for present-day California? What has happened to a State which has sent the swashbuckling Hiram Johnson to the Senate time and again?

California, of course, has been for years the playground of the rich. But it is unfortunate if these birds of passage have been allowed to dominate the State's philosophy. If Orange Grove avenue, in Pasadena, and the gilded palaces of Hollywood have such an effect on the old stamping ground of Bret Harte and Jack London, give us Atlantic City and the Maine coast.

AN UNPOETIC DRY AGENT.
The stage was set the other day for Prohibition Agent Henry Girard to die a martyr. He had knocked the plugs out of a 35,000-gallon vat of good red wine from the sunniest of California's sunny hillsides. Down surged the lovely food to a clogged drain in the cellar and back it ebbed to trap Agent Girard.
Higher, higher, higher rose the wine until it engulfed him. What irony! What poetry! What a death to die! Many there are in this broad land who, if they must, would choose just such a death. To be drowned in wine!
Pah! Agent Girard shall be nameless to posterity.
No minstrels will chant a lay for him. He swam out.

SIGNIFICANT ELECTION RESULTS.

The results were significant in several of the elections held yesterday. The overwhelming victory of the Democrats in New York City was another feather in the cap of Gov. Al Smith. It was a Smith victory as well as a Democratic party victory. Gov. Smith led the fight for the nomination of State Senator James J. Walker, and Gov. Smith led the fight for his election. The result was a sweep. More than ever Gov. Smith stands pre-eminent as New York's favorite son.
The Smith amendments to the State Constitution
did not fare as well as the ticket. There was one amendment providing for bonds of $100,000,000 to be applied by the State to a constructive program of public improvements, and one for $300,000,000 to abolish grade crossings. Indications were that these amendments would carry in New York City by about 150,000, but the State outside of New York City has yet to be heard from.
The Ku Klux Klan was swatted in Detroit, where a desperate effort was made by it to put klans in the saddle by the election of Charles Bowles, a recognized Ku Klux candidate, who was opposed by Mayor John W. Smith on an anti-Ku Klux platform. The vote of 23,000 majority for Smith is another nail in the coffin of ku kluxism.
New Jersey voted antiprohibition by electing A.
Harry Moore, Democrat, an avowed antiprohibitionist, by a majority of 40,000, against an avowed prohibitionist on the Republican ticket. But the Republicans held their congressional seats.
Nearer home, Kansas City elected a Republican Mayor by a few hundred votes, but apparently gave the Democrats control of the board which elects the City Manager under the new Charter, so that the Democrats will probably control the city government.
The results throughout the country are mixed, with indications that the Democratic party, though weak nationally, still has strength in state and local elections.

BOY SCOUT EXPOSITION.

Next Friday evening, continuing over Saturday
matinee and night, at the Armory, our St. Louis Boy Scouts, of whom there are over 6000, will give an exposition, under the auspices of the Rotary Club, that will attempt to show the value of the work done and the ideals sought by this organization. This exposition will be the largest event of the year in scouting activities, and is the second of its kind held in the world.
In the beautifully decorated Armory hall will be 60 booths, in which troops of Boy Scouts will be seen at work on the various character-building and useful arts, crafts and trades that go to make up a scout's training. A great many outsiders who have not followed the growth of this organization are unaware that, in addition to the outdoor woodcraft, the camping, the study of nature, the marching and setting up exercises, Boy Scout life now means learning trades and arts and is a real vocational aid.
In this exposition prizes will be awarded, in the shape of merit badges, to troops and individual scouts showing the best pieces of work. There will also be a number of prizes donated by the Rotary Club. Something interesting every minute, including Boy Scout band music, will make this one of the liveliest shows
St. Louis has ever enjoyed.

HELL, NO—HELL, YES.

Dean Inge has written another book which is bound to cause much gnashing of teeth and wagging of tongues. It is entitled "The Science of Religion and Reality." Readers of the Post-Dispatch got a glimpse of its contents in a special London cable to this paper.
The author's purpose, obviously, is to make religion
so conform to established scientific truths as to be acceptable to present thought, intelligence and culture. A "geographical heaven," for example, must frankly be abandoned, along with the concept of God
as a superman, with physical attributes of prodigious dimensions and human mental qualities both admirable and the reverse.

Quite properly, it is an extensible boy who has become Persia's Man on Horseback.

Let the tempest come. The "gloomy dean" has weathered many a gale. He will doubtless survive this one. A coincidence of local appeal may, however, be remarked. Dean Inge, it seems, while preaching at Durham Cathedral Sunday night, declared that a revolt against the awful picture of hell which Christians have inherited is now inevitable. And here in St. Louis, on that same Sunday night, another distinguished theologian, Evangelist Williams, subscribed enthusiastically to as literal a hell as ever flamed from pulpiteering eloquence.

"There's got to be a hell," shouted Brother Williams, who candidly admitted that his whole scheme
of things beyond the Styx would be junked if robbed
of his brimstone, his sulphur fogs and souls roasting
in an eternal torrescent.
Plainly Dean Inge has challenged Brother Williams. Will the latter sidestep the taunt? Not he.
We expect shortly to hear from Brother Williams that Dean Inge, like so many others of us, is headed straight for hell.

DISCOVERY.
I used to think I was a nut.
With psychopathic trends—
I believed my mind was furrowed
With crazy twists and bends:
But now I've wholly changed my view
On the things that I've lately paid
To my so-called "normal" friends.

There is the blustering banker X Whom I psych-analyze:
(His bluff's more pathetic
Than my colored box and ties)
And though he is a "normal" man
His son has fishy eyes.
(Which will prove a greater menace
Than my urge to poelize).

And lady Y fears little bugs—
A paranoiac dread.
(Though when she reads my stories
She shakes her solemn head.)
What boots it if society
By her weighty word is led?
(The wheels within her brain are loose
When all is done and said.)

Though once I thought I was a bug
With mildly insane trends
And believed myself demented
With usual psychic bends
Now I know my mind is solvent
And my attitude depends
On the visits that I've lately paid
To my so-called "normal" friends.

Missouri is just half way between London and Peking, between the tropics and the frozen regions of the North, between the Atlantic and the Pacific Oceans, between the Gulf of Mexico and the Northern lakes. The fact is, Missouri is just about the center of the universe. It is rearer by Missouri to anywhere a man wants to go than any other state on the continent. It is nearer to Heaven from Missouri than any other point on earth,
and it is just as near to the other place
if anyone cares to go there.—Linneus Bulletin.

What about it being 'between the Devil
and the deep sea'?

Sir: I ain't so much of an author, as my friends would have me believe, but with one thing another, I am what is generally known as a book worm, having read Flaming Youth, some wise cracks by O. Mr.
Mencken, something about Mike O'Lor-len's Green Hat and the latest dirt by a bird called George Jean Seashorn or someone like that, in addition to having learned that a meter in poetry ain't the same thing
you pay the gas bill by.

I guess you can see by now that I am a member of what we among our own set refer to as the intelligentsia. I have been smilingly spoken of on occasion as a young intellectual. I guess it's the way I dress that's so kind of sloppy and full of savour fall. And then I talk as loud and radical as I can.

I just thought I'd drop you a few lines
to tell you I agree with your clever contributor, "A." I don't know, of course, whether he's any relation to the various Mister X's who have from time to time appeared with what I call cheerful abandon in your splendid news columns. Well,
I started to say I agree with this "A." guy,
in re Mr. E. Guest, who was in our midst under a recent date line. It's very easy to see this Mr. E. Guest is the poet of the common people, which and the rest of the intelligentsia have decided to call everybody else—always exceptin' Mr. C. Darrow.
The latter can say wilder things than any of us intellectuals, and so is as you might say, a supreme apple knocker amongst us intelligentsia.

One of the big faults I find with Mr. E.
Guest is, he ain't got the modern trained mind. He lacks the famous sex appeal an-puts rhymes in his poetry. That is, as everyone realizes, nowadays enough to ban any writer of literature. The class has, only writin' for the common people. And he's always rabbini' about kiddies and the home
fires, the former of which are out of style and the latter of which are all steam radiators in the heat three-room apartments.
$23 a month down in advance.

Not having read the latest authorities on what is appropriately called the glorious news, such as Miss A. Lowell and Mr. Av.
Hagood, I ain't hardly in as good a position to judge on a base of comparison as your other gifted contributors probably is.
I. e., Mr. "A." There's no doubt Mr. E.
Guest's writin' for the common people, and is, to use a figure of speech thumbin' his nose and statin' "So's your old man" at us
charter members of the intelligentsia.
I might say in closing that I appreciate the end of Mr. A's campaign to justify the Y in Paul Y. Anderson. Even if Mr. E.
Guest ain't a huge comforter as a poet,
he has his advantages.

One of the women who married Wiedemarried all the women who recognize his

THE AMERICAN NAVY.

NO MATTER what changes take place in the methods of warfare and defense, matter what disasters may befall, as long as the United States is flanked on the sea
by the Atlantic and on the west by the Pacific, there must be a United States navy. The navy today lives on the sea, under the sea, and over the sea, but it is still the navy with the same tradition of service and protection. It protects this nation against hostile invasion; it is insurance for the Monroe Doctrine; it guarantees the safety of our growing foreign trade. During the war it transported the American expeditionary forces without the loss of a single soldier at sea and in the hands of the enemy. In peace time it affords opportunity of beautiful adventure and of practical and useful experience, returning to civilian life with broader for the training. On Navy day possible ships and stations will be thrown open to visitors. Americans should welcome this chance to get acquainted with the naval system that protect them. Naval officers of the navy will speak at gatherings and talk over the radio. It is an opportunity to hear the leaders in this branch of the country's service. It is fitting that the citizens of this republic should set aside one day of each year and dedicate it to the arm of our national defense in time of war
that guarantor of our national sovereignty
in time of peace, the United States navy.

easily have climbed the tree and attacked me, or a snake or pol-
sonous mosquito have bitten me.
Anyway, I had to stay up there un-

have caught me had I attempted
to return to the camp."

LABOR PARTY AND POLITICS.

ARTHUR HENDERSON, secretary and chief whip of the British labor party, speaking in this city, expressed the belief that American organized labor would enter the political arena soon
and account and strive for direct representation of the working classes in Congress. Mr. Henderson may yet realize that the trouble with American organized labor is not, as he supposes, that it has failed to bring about a political party. Political parties have been attempted, but they have brought only bitter disappointment. Labor in this country has not too little, but too much of the remedy suggested by Mr. Henderson.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—An inshrinks from all talk of killing—

needless to say this phenomenon is
a woman. The correspondent had read the thrilling experiences in
the African jungle of Mr. and Mrs.
Carl Akaley as written by Mr. Akaley
and had wondered what sort
of woman this was who could meet
lions and elephants face to face and slay them single handed. She went to see Mrs. Akaley, the other woman she heard she had returned on the Franconia from her latest African expedition, undertaken alone, in behalf of the Brooklyn Museum, and found her to be a most typically feminine woman.
Just before the Franconia
docked Mrs. Akaley mislaid her diamond rings. She was quite certain that the rings were in a suit-
case which had been taken ashore,
but she thought for safety's sake
she had better report the matter,
and as she stepped away from the
pursers' desk, she heard a man
who had been looking over the
passenger list say, "Is this Mrs.
Akaley, the African explorer?"
That woman exclaimed,
"Yes, she's the one who just lost her rings and can't find her embarkation card. She couldn't find her way around the ship, let alone the jungle!"

Escaped Order Forbidding Trip.
And that woman sent her country in August, 1924, went to London, where she outfitted herself
for the expedition, and sailed to Mombasa, the port of entry on the East Coast of Africa.

It was as disappointing when I saw Mombasa," said Mrs. Akaley. "The first time I saw the place was in 1901, when it exhaled all the romantic glamour of the country.
Now it is the most prosaic of country towns, with traffic policemen to watch the horrid Fordes, which buzz around like a lot of bees."

Leaving Mombasa just ahead of
a message from the British government forbidding her to go into the interior alone, she organized her own party of natives and proceeded up the river in dug-out canoes,
camping in the jungle at night and
gathering with patient toil and unflinching courage the 20 specimens
of wild animals which she later shipped from Nairobi to the Brooklyn Museum.

She spoke repeatedly of a rare
specimen which had been lost
aboard when a canoe upset.
"You see," she explained, "the rings hung over the water beautifully as a state setting, and when we passed under them snakes and licensed were apt to fall down into the canoe, and the boys would become excited and upset the boat."

Among the specimens is a lion, and animals are fast passing out of existence and specimens should be

But this gracious woman with the prematurely white hair and intelligent blue eyes obviously pre-

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—An interesting bit of big game who shirks from all talk of killing—
needless to say this phenomenon is
a woman. The correspondent had
read the thrilling experiences in
the African jungle of Mr. and Mrs.
Carl Akeley as written by Mr. Akeley
and had wondered what sort
of woman this was who could meet
the fiercest animals face to face and stay there single handed. She went to see Mrs. Akeley the other day, when she heard she had returned from the Franconia from her latest African expedition, undertaken alone. In the Brooklyn Museum, and found her to be a most typically feminine woman.

Just before the Franconia
docked Mrs. Akeley mislaid her diamond rings. She was quite certain that the rings were in a suit-
case which had been taken ashore,
but she thought for safety's sake
she had better report the matter,
and as she stepped away from the
purser's desk, she heard a man
who had been looking over the
passenger list say "Is this Mrs.
Akeley the African explorer?"

"That woman!" exclaimed the purser. "She's the one who lost her rings and can't find her em-barcation card. She couldn't find her way around the ship, let

Expanded Order Forbidding Trip.
And that woman left this country in August, 1924, went to London, where she outfitted herself
for the expedition, and sailed to
East Coast of Africa.

"I was disappointed when I saw

first time I saw the place was in 1919, when it exhaled all the romantic glamour of the country.

Leaving Mombasa just ahead of
a message from the British Government forbidding her to go into the

own safari of natives and proceeded up the river in dug-out canoes,
camping in the jungle at night and
gathering with patient toil and un-
flinching courage the 20 specimens
which she later shipped from Niobe to the Brooklyn Museum.

She spoke regretfully of a rare
specimen which had been lost
aboard when a canoe upset. "The thing hung over the water beautifully as a stage setting, and when we passed under them snakes and lizards were apt to fall down into
the canoe, and the boys would be excited and upset the boat."

Among the specimens is a lion and Mrs. Akeley said modestly that it was killed easily, not nearly as difficult as some of her former lion specimens. She told briefly how she had her boys build a platform
in a tree where she placed an animal she had killed for the purpose on the ground about 20 feet away from the tree.

A Night in a Tree.
"I went up on the platform at midnight and spent the night there,
and when my lion came I shot him."

"Were you in no danger?" she was asked.
"Well," said she smiling, "I might have come to sleep and fallen off the platform, a snake or other poisonous mosquito have bitten me,
or I might have stayed up there untill morning because the lion could
to return to the camp."

Mrs. Akeley said she got the specimens the museum wanted not for sport, but in the interests of science and education. She feels that few people realize the much pleasure and instruction the ordi-

"And underneath?" the cor-

"Silk lingerie, the softest and thinnest I could buy."
"Wool stockings?"

"No, silk ones. For months before I went I had aside my silk hose which had come to mending repaired them carefully and took them with me. It was hot, you know, frightfully hot. And when we made camp after a day on donkey-back in the desert or in my steamer chair in my canoe, the boys would arrange my tent in the protection of a thick bush, set up
my dressing table, and with water stolen from the drinking supply if we were in the desert I would take my bath. I had my suitcase with its silver toilet fittings, and after making myself fresh and clean, I would slip into a silk negligee, old but gratefully cool, and feel like a woman once more."

Then the writer asked the question that had been on the tip of her tongue all along: "Were you in mortal terror, being alone with those natives?"

"It was not the first time," replied Mrs. Akeley. "On our first expedition to Africa we arrived
just six weeks after the subjugation of certain tribes by the British. The men of our party were going into the jungle after elephants, and my husband was at a loss what to do with me in their absence, for at that time I had never handled a gun and was not at all eager to learn. I finally decided to stay in the native villages and continue my part of the work, which was to collect ornithological and implements for the Field Museum of Chicago. My sojourn among the villagers was wholly pleasant and without anything to alarm me in the least, and from that time dates my real interest in the native of the interior,
human beings from an anthropological standpoint. After I had shipped my specimens from Nairobi, I went back into the Congo country to study the women and children."

Feminism Is Not Strong.
On this part of her trip Mrs.
Akeley rode in a sort of litter carried by native bearers, a most comfortable means of conveyance in her opinion. The natives sang as they went along and when they approached a village the women
would run and hide in the bush,
thinking it was some official come
to collect poll tax, but when assured
the visitor was a woman they would come back and offer her the hospitality of their humble abodes.

"A woman is thought so little of in that part of the world. She is not allowed to eat with the men,
but takes what is left of the food
outside somewhere and makes her meal out of sight of her lord and master. It amused my boys very much to see me eat the native food
with these women."

Talking with these women about
their customs, their daily lives,
stealing out into the bush at night
to watch the weird and sometimes unspeakable native dances, attending the seance of witch doctors,
Mrs. Akeley probably knows more of the customs of the people than any living white woman. Yet she speaks of it all not as a student or an investigator but as one human being of another, telling with a quiet humor of the African widow who does mourning for her deceased spouse by having her black body painted with a coat of white clay, and when the clay begins to wear considers herself in half-mourning, and the women re-tend the dances and look around for a new husband, for life must go on even though husbands go the way of all flesh.

How Mogambo Learned English.
"You speak the native language
then?" the writer asked.
"No," laughed Mrs. Akeley, "but I communicate with them in English, a word or two of French and much sign language. I was fortunate enough to pick up a
about 13 years old, as clever a little mimic as you ever saw, and he used to tell the others with great pride that he was the only one who understood me."

The way in which he learned
English was rather disconcerting.
One day I hurt myself badly and said a good American swear word before I thought. Later in the day
I heard Mogambo muttering to himself, 'dammit, dammit.' 'Oh, I said, shocked, you must not say that. Very bad! Several days later we were visiting some missionaries
and I chanced to say something very bad and turned to see Mogambo, who always accompanied me, for confirmation. Imagine my surprise to hear him say gravely:

'Very bad, dammit!'

Among the curious things which Mrs. Akeley brought back as personal souvenirs is an ebony and ivory snuffer stick, surmounted by a handle carved in the ivory
so beautifully that it is really a museum piece. A queer looking shield fashioned of fiber, tough
enough to turn against the sharpest spear, leaned against the wall of the room emphasizing the incongruity between this gentle voiced woman and her remarkable exploits.

WANTS CONCORD ON SHOALS
President Thinks Investigators Will Settle Differences.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—President Coolidge, it was said today
at the White House, believes members of his Muscle Shoals Commission will be able to compose their differences so as to submit a unanimous report as to what should be done with the properties.

Chairman McKenzie of the commission has advised the President that majority and minority reports
may be submitted, but the President understands that these differences concern minor details. He believes also that the commission's report will be such that it will receive his own full support and that of Congress, although he has not received detailed information concerning it.

N. Y., Was Genealogist.

By the Associated Press.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 4.—

himself in compiling the genealogy

time he had been constantly in touch with the President and had received considerable correspondence
from him.

Among other letters from the President is one prized highly by the Rochester Coolidges, which contains an invitation to the White House that the two branches of the family might become better acquainted.

cises of Holy Dying," printed in

91 of New York City, member of

Nov. 4.—Lady Cynthia Mosely, daughter of the late Marquis Curzon,

tive Labor candidate for Parliament from this district, plans to

of the election in which Lady Cin-thia will contest for a seat in the House of Commons is uncertain, depending upon the future of the Baldwin Government. Lady Cin-thia plans to leave England late this month. She expects to visit Chicago. Her mother was Miss Mary Lettice of that city. She in-

PAVLEY-OKRAINSKY BALLET IN UNEVEN EXHIBIT AT ODEON

"Tristram" Charmingly Costumed
and Well Done, But Drearly Trite in Subject Matter.

The personable Andreas Pavley
and members of the Pavley-Okra-insky Ballet, an adjunct of the Chicago Civic Opera, gave two programs yesterday at the Odeon.
The evening entertainment, which marked the beginning of the second season of the Civic Music
League, drew a large audience,
which found evident pleasure in
the comely and graceful young
corpses.

The program itself, however,
was uneven. Pavley by no means effaces memories of "Russian and Mordkin. The principal number, a one-act ballet called
"Tristram," was charmingly costumed and executed, but the story
was one of those dreary stereotype recitals of the "Civic Music
League, drew a large audience,
which found evident pleasure in
the comely and graceful young
corpses.

Other pieces presented Dutch wooden-shoe dancers, spirits of Spring, Greek nymphs and human birds, serpents, bees and ripples of water—all the familiar apparatus
which has become as trite as choruses of white dresses and lamp shades in the "Follies." In a solo called "Sacrilege," Mr. Pavley bootlegged a goblet of sacrificial wine,
after which he was seized with gripes of the funny and expired
in agonies which would make Wayne B. Wheeler smack his lips
in holy gusto.

On the other hand, there were a gorgeously dressed "Russian Dance" by Mlle. Elstus, a brilliant Oriental measure by Mlle. Bennett, and an exquisite "French Polka," by Mr. Pavley and Mlle. Milar, in which one caught the fragrance of gay youth and innocent fun. This number was repeated, as was also a "Czardas," by the whole company.

Clouds of dust arose at every footfall from the unswamp stage,
and music supplied by a small orchestra of seven, over which the director, Adolph Schmidt, made little attempt to conceal his unhappiness.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY FROM SPRINGFIELD DIED IN BRAZIL

A Son Was Born at Rev. David P.
Appley's Home on Night of Father's Death.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 4.—
Rev. David Perry Appley, Baptist missionary to Brazil, died in Fello Horizonte, Oct. 16, according to word received here. Rev.
Appley was sent to Brazil one year ago by the Springfield First Baptist Church and was said to have been on the eve of great success in his chosen field. Death and life appeared almost simultaneously at the missionary's
home: a son was born on the night of the father's death.

Rev. Appley was born in this city on July 2, 1880. He was a graduate of Springfield High School and attended Drury College one year. He later obtained his Bachelor of Arts degree at William Jewett College, and continued
his education until he had acquired three more degrees, Master of Arts, Bachelor of Divinity and Bachelor of Theology, the last degree being bestowed upon him by the Louisville Seminary.

A memorial service, in which numerous speakers who knew Rev.
Appley, participated, was held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the First Baptist Church, here, with the Rev. Lewis M. Hale, pastor, officiating.

The deceased is survived by the widow and a small son, two brothers, Melvin Appley, Tulsa, Ok., and Edgar Appley, Parsons, Kan.
IRISH PRESS CENSOR WANTED

By the Associated Press.
DUBLIN, Nov. 4.—Kavin O'Higgins, Minister for Justice, was asked in the Dail Eireann to appoint an official censor to deal with undesirable Sunday and weekly papers
which are brought into Ireland.
O'Higgins replied that serious difficulties prevented the State from interfering and from prescribing
what the people may read. He said the law already gave powers
to prevent the dissemination of obscene literature and promised to appoint a commissioner to consider any practical proposals.

President Casgraves announced that the Government intends to introduce a bill for compulsory school attendance on Nov. 24.

"Limousine" Good French Nov.
Overcoats of the Associated Press
FARIS, Oct. 18.—Persons who have been boldly using the word
"limousine" to describe their most valued automotive possession, always in the belief that it was of excellent French origin, should know that it has just been accepted by the French Academy as a word in good usage.

Indigestion

Why Not Avoid Indigestion
Instead of Having to Cure It?

You must have good digestion to live, to be healthy and happy. You can have this by following the advice of an eminent Philadelphia Specialist, who insisted that his patients who were subject to Indigestion, take three tablets of Luyties No. 22 every morning before breakfast with a little hot water.

The price of Luyties No. 22 (Indigestion Tablets) is 25c. Our advice, however, is to buy a $1.00
bottle, containing 5 times as much,
and acquire the habit of taking these tablets regularly every day.

Pimpily? Well, Don't Be

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards'
Olive Tablets.

A pimply face will not embarrass
you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.
The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain
after taking them.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets
is ever cured with a "dark brown
taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless,
"no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.
Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.
Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets
are the immensely effective result.
Take one or two nightly for a week.
See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 25c.

"Regular" Brushing, Yet Constant Tooth Decay.
Why?

Brushing the teeth morning
and night does not prevent decay, as everyone knows and
as your Dentist will affirm.
Nocturnal neglect is the prevailing fault. Food particles are permitted to remain in the mouth after lunch. Decomposition and decay go on unmolested until bedtime. Is it any wonder that teeth and gums suffer?

Only by brushing the teeth after every meal can your mouth be kept free from the poisons which menace
your health. With a SANI-FOLD Tooth Brush in your pocket or handbag, ready for use wherever you are,
it is easy to keep your mouth sweet and clean, your teeth sound and white. Cultivate this agreeable and profitable habit.

SANI-FOLD is a full size toothbrush; folds to half length, convenient for pocket or handbag; finest white fast-tint bristles, scientifically tufted and shaped; cup-guard handle for rinsing mouth; transparent colored ivory. 50c—ALL DRUG-GISTS.

CREO-LYPTUS

Quickly overcomes those racking coughs. Creol-Lyptus soothes the inflamed membrane in throat and lungs
—loosens phlegm and permits normal
breathing. Try it—At your druggist,

CORNELIUS VANDERBILT JR. OPERATED ON A SECOND TIME

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 4.—Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., wealthy

newspaper publisher, was operated

upon yesterday for the second time

within two weeks for an infection

of the jaw. Mr. Vanderbilt has been confined to a hotel here for some time. Despite his ailment he showed keen interest in the election returns, particularly those from

New York, Boston and Detroit.

The publisher suffered first

from an infection in the left side of the jaw. Surgeons had apparently overcome the ailment, but recently it appeared again in the right jaw bone. The second operation, performed on this side of the face, was one of a series to which the patient has been subjected since the infection first appeared.

Discussing his ailment, Vanderbilt said: "I was gassed at the battle of Ypres during the World War and the trouble with my jaw began shortly afterward. I was treated in France and later in this country. I have lost 10 teeth and six inches of jaw bone as the result of operations."

In 1866 the Old Union Market Was Opened

Early in that year the City Fathers passed an ordinance to buy, for a market, the block bounded by Broadway, Morgan, Sixth and Lucas, from Mrs. Ann C. T. Farrar for $245,000.

Today, just 59 years later, a conservative estimate of $2,000,000 has been placed upon the site. And in 1823 it was purchased for $800! The erection of the new Market is the first major project to be completed under the $86,000,000 Bond Issue. The cost was $1,350,000 and it is the finest market in the United States.

Sick Stomach Teaches Her a Lesson

Brooklyn, Mrs. Alfred Fie writes: "I had become accustomed to arising each day with a heavy head, dizzy, and bad taste in my mouth. My bowels were frequently clogged. One day I became so sick to my stomach I had to leave an important job and go home. A friend advised Carter's Little Liver Pills. I feel like a made over person since using them. I have learned a good lesson, and whenever my stomach goes bad again I'll certainly know what to do."

Carter's Little Liver Pills relieve the constipated condition by cleansing the intestines of their waste matter. Their action is gentle and free from pain. All druggists, 25c.

Lemon Tightens Wrinkled Skin

Two lemons in a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents, shake well and you have the very mildest anti-wrinkle lotion to tighten relaxed skin, erase fine lines and eradicate crow's feet.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion into the skin at night. By morning most of the tell-tale wrinkles, tired lines and crow's feet are smoothed out, giving a more youthful contour to cheeks, chin, throat. It leaves the skin velvety soft, clear and fresh.

Beauty experts use this astringent lotion for enlarged pores, also to bleach and whiten sallow, tanned skin.

Mix this harmless lotion yourself since it acts best immediately after prepared.

WOMAN EXONERATED FOR KILLING OF MAN

Coroner's Jury Finds Mrs. Margaret Seitz Was Justified in Shooting Hugh Sweeney.

Mrs. Margaret Seitz, of 2705A Garfield avenue, was justified in shooting Hugh M. Sweeney, 35 years old, of 2917 Lexington avenue, in Saturday night, a coroner's jury held today. A bullet fired by Mrs. Seitz from a window of her home struck Sweeney in the abdomen and he died early yesterday.

Testimony was given by Mrs. Marie Ricketts, 28, widow, a daughter of Mrs. Seitz, telling of annoyances by Sweeney Friday and Saturday. Sweeney had been drinking, she said, and telephoned their home repeatedly, abusing her and her mother because he could not see Mrs. Ricketts. Policemen were called to guard the home about 8:15 p. m. Saturday but they departed at 9 o'clock, Mrs. Ricketts said, and then Sweeney appeared before the house at 11:15, after several more telephone calls.

Sweeney called to Mrs. Seitz that he was going to wipe out the whole family, Mrs. Ricketts declared, and then Mrs. Seitz fired. Albert Ricketts, son of Mrs. Ricketts, testified that Sweeney threw a brick through a window when denied admittance Friday night. Mrs. Seitz did not testify on advice of the coroner. Sweeney had been arrested more than 40 times.

SUES SON FOR ACCOUNTING OF HER $30,000 ESTATE

Mrs. Martha Penning of Webster Groves Charges Rent Money Has Been Withheld.

A suit for an accounting was filed yesterday in Circuit Court by Mrs. Martha Penning, 70 years old, of Webster Groves, against her son, Richard C. Penning, an assistant superintendent of the Polar Wave Ice &amp; Fuel Co.

She states that 10 years ago, after the death of her husband, she turned over to her son cash, bonds and other securities amounting to $30,000 to invest for her, but he has failed to pay her all of the income from the various investments so made or render an accounting, although from time to time he paid to her a small portion of the proceeds, she avers. She specifically mentions that for a long time he collected the rent from property at 740 Heman avenue, University City, but did not account to her for the money received.

Penning would not discuss the suit.

CHINESE IN PARADE TO DEATH

Condemned Bandits Are Driven Through Shanghai Streets.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and Chicago Daily News, Shanghai, Oct. 15.—Thousands of Chinese and foreigners lined the main business thoroughfares in the international settlement and the French concession in Shanghai as 12 condemned armed bandits were driven through the city on their way to Lunghwa arsenal to be shot. The men were bound and heavily guarded. The parade was under the direction of the Chinese military authorities, though permission to pass through the settlement was granted by the municipal council. The doomed men screamed curses at the policemen along the line of march. It is customary to take condemned men on a tour of the native city so that all may view them in the light of a warning, but this was the first time the foreign settlement had permitted the parade and the municipal council has been the target of heated criticism.

The roadway is 12 feet wide and is being constructed under contract with the Federal Government. It will be used for hauling material to the point where the mast is to be constructed.

The Best None Too Good

After many years of stomach suffering I have at last found a medicine for that trouble. But before me it was Tomlinson's. I couldn't have lasted a week while my stomach would insist on being a barrel and the only cure to be found. Medicine didn't help much until I saw that of Mrs. Tomlinson's Remedy, which did the trick. I am telling everyone about it. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allows the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including indigestion, to subside. One day will convince or money returned. Write: Tomlinson Drug Co., Wellston Drive Co. and Druggists everywhere.

MISSOURI POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY TO INCREASE STOCK Finance Plans to Provide Funds for Purchase of West Missouri Power Co. Special to the Post-Dispatch. ST. The increase in the outstanding issues of these stocks, together with other refinancing plans, will provide funds for the purchase of the West Missouri Power Co., the option on which was secured more than a year ago at a price of $4,250,000.

The 50 towns now served by the West Missouri Co. added to the number now served by the Missouri Utility Co. will increase the total number to more than 150 communities.

According to the correspondent,

He added:

"It is stated by those qualified

they had not called on him.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL
AT THE AGE OF 83

"Purges" and "Physics" Bad for Old Folks

While Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, knew that constipation was the curse of advancing age, he did not believe that a "purge" or "physic" every little while was necessary.

To him, it seemed cruel that so many constipated old people had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, oil and nasty oils every day or two.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which regulates the bowels of old folks. A single dose will establish natural, healthy bowel movement for weeks at a time, even for those chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement, but, best of all, it is often months before another dose is necessary. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

If past fifty, buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine and just see for yourself.

MY! WHAT A DIFFERENCE

Said Saint Lou's Woman After Using Herb Juice.

"It certainly does make a difference when you are feeling well, because good health is the greatest thing in the world, but I had begun to think that my health had gone, never to return," said Mrs. J. H. Gluckstadt, who resides at 449 Marlan Ave., St. Louis, Mo., when she called to see the Herb Juice man very recently.

"My kidneys have troubled me more or less for several years, in fact they acted so violently that my rest was badly broken at night. I had severe headaches which were caused from chronic constipation. I think the root of my whole trouble was caused from my constipated condition. From this trouble one can have many ailments," continued Mrs. Gluckstadt. "I tried all kinds of treatments for my kidneys and other ailments as well, but nothing seemed to hit the spot or give me satisfactory results until I started using Herb Juice, and now, after taking it only a short time, I am happy to say that I feel much better than I have in a long time. Herb Juice has completely relieved me of constipation. Those violent headaches have disappeared and I do not suffer any more with kidney trouble and can now sleep peacefully the whole night through. I am glad to make this public statement in hope that someone suffering as I did may read it and try Herb Juice and be relieved as I have."

Hundreds are now calling daily to see the Herb Juice man, who has established headquarters at Judge & Dolph Drug Co., 514 Washington Ave., giving statements for publication and praising Herb Juice that their friends may be induced to try the great remedy which is relieving so many sufferers in St. Louis.

SAYS HERB JUICE IS GREATEST MEDICINE HE EVER USED

A Few Months Ago He Was Almost a Nervous Wreck from Stomach Trouble, Says Herb Juice Has Restored His Health.

"The greatest medicine I ever used, that's what I say when anyone asks me about Herb Juice, and I feel safe in making this statement, as this medicine relieved me of a bad case of stomach trouble after I had thought that nothing was going to help me. I know from experience that Herb Juice will do all that is claimed for it and I recommend it to my friends and everyone."

Mr. Wm. Aumann, well-known carpenter, who resides at 4636 Varrelmann Ave., St. Louis, Mo., made the above statement to the Herb Juice man a few days ago.

MR. WILLIAM AUMANN

Continuing his statement he said: "Before I used Herb Juice I was in a pretty badly run-down condition brought on by years of suffering from indigestion and stomach trouble. I also suffered several years with constipation. My liver was out of order which caused me severe attacks of biliousness and dizzy spells. I was so nervous I could not sleep at night. After my meals, no matter how light the diet, I would have those sharp shooting pains through my stomach and suffer with severe headaches most of the time. I had just about given up hope as I tried almost everything I could hear of and failed to get relief until I started taking Herb Juice. And I must candidly confess that Herb Juice has given me real genuine relief. I now have a good appetite and eat anything I want without any trouble afterward; can sleep soundly the night through; never have any more soreness or pains in my stomach; am not troubled with dizziness and have much more energy. I have found Herb Juice to be wonderful for the liver and have been entirely relieved of constipation. I gladly give you this statement and endorse it as the greatest medicine I have ever used."

SHUNS CONFIDENCE GAME, BUT LOSES

Isaac Sacks Says Men stole $425 When He Refused to Buy Fake Diamonds.

Two strangers, falling to get $425 from Isaac Sacks, 56 years old, of 2712 Sheridan avenue, Monday, by a confidence game in two languages, took it by force, he reported yesterday to detectives.

Sacks said that as he came out of the City Trust Co., 1122 Washington avenue, a florid, well-dressed man stopped him and, in Russian, asked the way to the stock yards. Another stepped up and, in Jewish, asked, "What does he want to know?" Sacks told him and he said, "Tell him they're at 5000 Easton avenue."

In Russian Sacks was informed that one stranger had just come from Canada with some diamonds he wanted to get rid of. The inference was that they were smuggled. At Jewish, after an examination under a reading glass, he was further informed that they were "good stuff," and the other stranger would buy them in partnership with him.

But Sacks didn't want to. "He started west on Washington," he said. At Thirteenth street the men came up. "Where's the money you drew from the bank?" he was asked in Russian. "Give it to me." Intimidated, he did so. A hand thrust the two jewelry cases into his pocket, and he was told in Jewish to take it to a pawnshop. The "diamond" ring and ear rings, which he turned over to detectives, were worthless.

TWO ESCAPE FROM PRISON

Missouri Convicts Thought to Have Hidden Outside Wall in Freight Car Special in the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 4.—John Gardner of St. Louis, serving a 15-year sentence for murder, and Claude McFadden, Kansas City convict, escaped from the penitentiary about 7 o'clock last night, presumably by concealing themselves in freight cars that were switched out of the prison railroad yard at that hour. Prison officials today had found no trace of them.

The two convicts were working in the prison power house, which adjoins the tracks in the prison railroad yard. They were missed soon after a number of cars were switched out of the yard. They escaped detection by guards posted at the railroad gate in the prison yard. Gardner had served 16 months of his sentence. He was committed to the penitentiary on July 2, 1924. McFadden was serving a six-year sentence from Kansas City from May 1, 1923, for assault with intent to kill. Both men had good records in the prison. McFadden would have been released in another year under the merit and three-fourths sentence rules.

Appointed to Justice Association. Henry Kirchner, Circuit Clerk of St. Louis County, was appointed today as a member of the Advisory Committee on Record Systems and Office Administration of the Missouri Association for Criminal Justice. Thomas C. Henning, president of the association, said Kirchner was named because of the high standing of his office in a survey of Circuit Clerk's offices in the State by the association. His work will involve the study of improved methods in such offices.

STAINED CLUB MURDER
CLEW IN E. ST. LOUIS

Police Believe Mexican Laborer
Was Slugged and Robbed
of Pay.

St. Clair County authorities, investigating the death yesterday afternoon of Angel Garcia, 30 years old, a Mexican laborer, from a fractured skull, today found a blood-stained oak club a short distance from where Garcia was discovered, substantiating their theory that Garcia was robbed and murdered.
Garcia was found about five feet
from the Alton & Southern Railroad tracks, in the 2200 block of Baker avenue, East St. Louis, early yesterday, unconscious. His skull was fractured in several places, as though he had been struck by a heavy instrument. He died at 4 p. m. in St. Mary's Hospital, without regaining consciousness.

Monday was payday at the Illinois Central Railroad camp, where Garcia was employed. After working hours he and a fellow workman, known to police only as
"Bob," visited a saloon at 2600
Tudor avenue.
Police learned that when the two men left this saloon, late Monday night, "Bob" gave Garcia his pay, about $20. Garcia had a similar amount. When found his pockets were empty.
A negro suspect was arrested last night for questioning.

IN BRITISH TOWN COUNCILS

Victories Believed to Be Indicative of Dissatisfaction With Present Tory Government.
Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publications Co., (New York World and Post-Dispatch.)
LONDON, Nov. 4.—British Labor
registered a net gain of approximately 190 seats in the borough councils of England and Wales in municipal elections held Monday.
This gain was mostly at the expense of the Conservatives who suffered a net loss of 146 seats while the Liberals lost 24 and the Independents 20. Although the municipal elections, involving local issues have not always proved an index to the voting in succeeding parliamentary elections, there is a general feeling here that this large Labor gain indicates dissatisfaction
with the present Tory Government.
It is also perhaps significant that Labor, which has no daily newspaper save the Herald, should have made its gain in face of the persistent anti-Labor campaign of the last two weeks waged by Lord Rothermere's and Lord Beaver-brook's newspapers.
Labor now controls eight out of the 28 London borough councils, where the party lost in 1922.

Monday's voting having again won The net Labor gain in the London for Labor at Shoreditch and Step-borough councils is about 96 seats.

"WE HAVE"

Washington Imp Rapidly, Worko Billikens "Ro

By John H. Alex

After today's scrimmage on the two coaches will let down on their squad work to keep them in top form for Saturday. Washington U. is prepping for the game at Francis Field with Missouri U. make its last trip of the season to Detroit.

The remaining days on the Pike way will likely be devoted to perfecting a defense against forward passes, which will be the downfall of the Pikers, unless they do better than they have in practice thus far. Witnesses of the Tiger-Ames contest state that Missouri places a great deal of reliance on the aerial game, especially in the vicinity of the enemy goal.

"It Can Be Done"—Higgins. Persons who want the "low down" on just what chance, if any, the Pikers have against Missouri, should talk to Coach Higgins, who saw the Tigers in action.

"I certainly do think we have a chance to beat them," he said last night. "In the light of their record, it would be foolish to under-rate them, but we are getting better with each game and should reach the apex of our form in Saturday's game. Then, too, we are playing on the home gridiron and you know what that means to a team."

Considering the feat of the Pikers in 1932 when they beat the Tigers after having been trimmed 12-0 the previous Saturday by Kansas, the at-home feature takes on real importance.

Billikens Crisples Report. A testimonial to the crushing power of "Cowboy" Nick Kutsch and Fry, Iowa backs, was presented at the St. Louis U. field last night in the person of Paul Lewis, who returned to the squad after an absence of almost a month, during which period a fractured shoulder had been mending. A still more striking testimonial was the "dreadful" cry of St. John's Hospital of Joe Higgins, big guard, who has been in duress since the battle with the Hawkeyes. Higgins' football days are over.

Hiel met "Buck" Blum, another guard in the revolving door. Blum was going in to give testimony on the rough out power of the Rolla Miners' attack. He has a double fracture in the right arm, and the leg and will probably be in for a month. Four other Billikens stood on the sidelines at practice and counted off four more votes for Rolla in the unpopularity contest. They were Capt. Ramacott, plane "White" Kahl, "Doc" Kahl, and "Doc" Albin, each one of whom is a

Bourett, Back, Is Sensation of College Union

Wesleyan Player Runs Rings Around Westminster in Winning Rally.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 4.—While William Jewell was idle over the week-end, Missouri Wesleyan maintained its onward march toward the College Union championship by knocking off the Westminster Blue Jays, 7 to 3, in a game that ended in the dark. It was a thrilling game and "Dad" Bowles, veteran coach of the Jewells, was there in the capacity of a scout, getting a line on the Westminster team he expects to meet for the title at Cameron Thanksgiving day.

Bourett Plays Great Game. Victory for Wesleyan came in a manner as startling as it was unexpected. The half ended with Westminster leading, 7 to 3, and having shown flashes of a power both defensively and offensively that seemed to bode no good for Wesleyan in the last half.

But Wesleyan came out fighting mad and within six minutes after the first whistle of the third quarter Wesleyan had unleashed a 140-pound blue streak of jagged lightning against the Westminster defense and was leading by a 17-to-7 score.

Goldie "Peewee" Bourett, quarterback, a Mayville, Mo. boy, was the lad with swift-moving legs. Three times this mite of a football player tucked the ball under his arm and started on a dashing, sidestepping, squirming journey for the Blue Jay goal. The third successive dash put the ball behind the goal line.

The last two minutes were played in a darkness that made the ball difficult to follow and the heroic stand of the Cameron team, an unwhimpering, fighting, heroic stand in the darkened shadows of its goal line must have won the admiration even of the Blue Jays themselves.

Fred Walker, Drury scout, watched the game and this week he is prepping his Springfield team for the charging of the Blue Jays Friday. Westminster will have power in that game, but Drury has "tight." The game will be a durb. At Marshall this week William Jewell will probably go on its undefeated way by humbling Missouri Valley. Last year they played a no-score draw. The Jewells will be out to revenge that failure. Valley always fights against Jewell, but Coach Godfraux hardly can even the title of Jewell this time. Missouri Wesleyan should have no great trouble in turning back Tarkio, over which Jewell registered a 32 to 0 victory. The defeat of Central by Central Wesleyan last week came as a surprise to a majority of the State dopsters, so the stock of the Fayette team is low for this week's game, with Culver Stockton on a neutral gridiron at Hannibal.

Owing to faulty schedule construction, Coach Courteau's Cape Girardeau team was forced to play two games last week with only a day of rest. The Cape boys held Maryville to a 2-0-0 score on a muddy field on Thursday, but on Saturday the Cape athletes trailed in a 40-to-0 game with Coach Briggs' Springfield teachers. Referee McCready brings back the word that Briggs has built a remarkably fine interference in front of speedy end-skirting backs.

Bourett, Back, Is Sensation of College Union

Wesleyan Player Runs Rings Around Westminster in Winning Rally.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 4.—While William Jewell was idle over the week-end, Missouri Wesleyan maintained its onward march toward the College Union championship by knocking off the Westminster Blue Jays, 17 to 14, in a game that ended in the dark. It was a thrilling game and "Dad" Bouwies, veteran coach of the Jewells, was there in the capacity of a scout, getting a line on the Westminster team he expects to meet for the title at Cameron Thanksgiving day.

Bourett Plays Great Game. Victory for Wesleyan came in a manner as startling as it was unexpected. The half ended with Westminster leading, 7 to 3, and having shown flashes of a power both defensively and offensively that seemed to bode no good for Wesleyan in the last half.

But Wesleyan came out fighting mad and within six minutes after the first whistle of the third quarter Wesleyan had unopposed a 140-pound blue streak of jagged lightning against the Westminster defense and was leading by a 17-to-7 score.

Goldie "Peewee" Bourett, quarterback, a Maryville, Mo. boy, was the lad with swift-moving legs. Three times this mite of a football player tucked the ball under his arm and started on a dashing, side-stepping, squirming journey for the Blue Jay goal. The third successive dash put the ball behind the goal line.

The last two minutes were played in a darkness that made the ball difficult to follow and the heroic stand of the Cameron team, an unwhispering, fighting, heroic stand in the darkened shadows of its goal line must have won the admiration even of the Blue Jays themselves.

Fred Walker, Drury scout, watched the game and this week he is prepping his Springfield team for the charging of the Blue Jays Friday. Westminster will have power in that game, but Drury has "light." The game will be a barb. At Marshall this week William Jewell will probably go on its undefeated way by humbling Missouri Valley. Last year they played a no-score draw. The Jewells will be out to revenge that failure. Valley always fights against Jewell, but Coach Godfridaus hardly can stem the tide of Jewell this time. Missouri Wesleyan should have no great trouble in turning back Tarkio, over which Jewell registered a 22 to 0 victory. The defeat of Central by Central Wesleyan last week came as a surprise to a majority of the State dopsters, so the stock of the Fayette team is low for this week's game, with Culver Stockton on a neutral gridiron at Hannibal.

Owing to faulty schedule construction, Coach Courreaux's Cape Girardeau team was forced to play two games last week with only a day of rest. The Cape boys held Maryville to a 2-to-0 score on a muddy field on Thursday, but on Saturday the Cape athletes trailed in a 40-to-0 game with Coach Briggs' Springfield teachers. Referee McCready brings back the word that Briggs has built a remarkably fine interference in front of speedy end-skirting backs.

Head Football Coach of Yale University.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 4.—Another week of football has passed and Penn. Navy and Army have tasted of defeat in some of the real surprises of last Saturday's contests.

The defeat of Penn. by Illinois and Grange or rather Grange and Illinois was not entirely unexpected for but a bit more decisive than expected. There were many who were coming to think that the Grange of last year was not up to his usual form and I dare say there were many who backed their opinions with real money, much to their regret. Illinois with Grange was conceded an outside chance to win, but it appears that the air of confidence emanating from the Penn. stronghold had a bad effect on the Quaker eleven. Penn., of course, was without the services of Krueger and Fields, but little things like that shouldn't count when it comes to playing football. It is just possible also that Penn. was brought along too fast, while the development of the Illini has been quite normal. Penn. now has a slight rest before tackling Pittsburg and Cornell. She will need all her strength for these two games.

Not a Navy Day. The Michigan-Navy game was something of an upset—not so much on account of the Michigan victory, but because of the overwhelming score. There are days, however, when everything that a team tries works well, just as there are days when nothing goes at all, and it is barely possible that Michigan primed and set for a difficult game, and finding things coming easy, set sail for a large score. Whatever the cause of the failure of the Navy, the Michigan eleven must be an impressive one—one of the best that the veteran coach, "Hurricane" Vost, has ever turned out.

While the Navy was being defeated in the West, the Army colors were being lowered by Yale in the bowl. In spite of the defeat and the size of the score the Army team was one of the very best. Capt. McEwan is a fine coach and is surrounded by a smart staff of assistants. On endeavoring to analyze the Army it is difficult to which did not come up to expectations. Harvard and Princeton succeeded in defeating their opponents W. and M. and Swarthmore, but Harvard did not find the sailing smooth. Princeton looked impressive in the defeat of Swarthmore.

Syracuse Still Undeclared. Syracuse in defeating Penn State, remains in the undefeated class with only Colgate left on her schedule, with any chance at all to administer a defeat. Regardless of the outcome of the game, Reynolds has accomplished much in his first year at Syracuse.

Of next Saturday's games the Harvard-Princeton, Columbia-N. Y. U., Cornell-Dartmouth, stand out as of greatest interest in Eastern circles. Harvard and Princeton do not play the same kind of football against other opponents that they play against each other and this is bound to be a real game. Early in the season it appeared that Harvard might be stronger than Princeton, but Princeton has had a better record to date and should be favored to win. A desperate Harvard eleven can accomplish wonders, however, and victory will remain in doubt until the final whistle. Harvard has not had any the best of the luck this year and it may be that fate will be kinder to them than in the past.

Good Games Saturday. The contest between Columbia and N. Y. U. is provoking the keenest kind of interest. Crowley's card at Columbia is being watched carefully and he has accomplished much in producing far and away the best eleven which has represented Columbia since football was discontinued at that institution 20 years ago. The Columbia eleven has been near to victory, even in the games that were lost. Meehan at N. Y. U. has produced a team that has looked good and bad in spots. It was a distinct disappointment last Saturday against Fordham. But football teams, like race horses and golfers, have their off days and one Saturday performance may not always be taken as a criterion of play for the following Saturday. While Columbia should win, N. Y. U. may be counted on to put up the hardest kind of struggle. Columbia can make no mistakes, however, and no game can be counted won until the final whistle blows. One thing seems certain, the game should draw a capacity crowd.

The Cornell-Dartmouth game will be a mighty struggle. mouth was not as impressive against Brown as it was last Saturday. Harvard has the advantages of having two difficult games, to Columbia. It should be one of the best games played this week and definitely establish the strength of either or both teams.

to avoid
a cold

Nothing else which you can do will protect you from colds, grippe, and influenza as effectively as keeping the bowels open and the system toned by the use of Nature's Remedy, NR Tablets, the vegetable laxative.

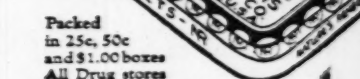

Begin today to make sure that you can avoid a cold. Take an NR Tablet tonight and put your system in such shape that you can feel reasonably sure of resisting disease. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) does more than a laxative. Besides causing a pleasant, easy bowel action, it acts on the stomach and kidneys, aids digestion as well as elimination and tones and strengthens the whole system.

18,000 say NR is good

During the past six months, over 18,000 users of NR Tablets have written us, telling us how NR has relieved them and their families and has helped them to keep well and happy. Many have told of their experiences extending over long periods of years—twenty, twenty-five, even thirty years of continuous use in their families for Constipation, Biliousness, Sick Headaches, Rheumatism, Auto-intoxication and the train of ills which follow faulty elimination.

Read a few of the letters in the next column

Get a box of Nature's Remedy from your druggist—it is the only safe, dependable way of keeping fit to enjoy the months that are to come.

Well and Happy at 82
W. M. Adcock, Waynesville, Ill., writes: I am 82 years old and have taken NR tablets for almost 30 years and am never without them. They are fine for constipation, liver and kidneys. I am a real well and happy man for my age, and I believe it is due to the good condition Nature's Remedy keeps me in.

Relieved of Dizziness and Indigestion
Henry Schauer, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: It is with a great deal of pleasure that I say that I have taken NR tablets for many years, and the wonderful effect has given me a real relief. My dizzy spells, bad stomach and constipation have entirely left me. I always buy the large size on account of the saving. I recommend them 100%.

No More Sick Headaches and Indigestion
Mrs. L. A. Stone, Norman, Okla., writes: After 10 years from dyspepsia, indigestion and sick headaches, I was induced to try Nature's Remedy. This I did for the past twelve years I have used Nature's Remedy and find it the most reliable medicine.

Twenty Years of Satisfaction
Mrs. Hattie E. Porter, El Dorado, Kans., writes: I have used Nature's Remedy for 20 years. I use nothing else and would not be without them. It is the best medicine I can get. I am 66 years of age and Nature's Remedy is my only medicine.

Great Relief from Stomach Trouble
G. A. Willingham, Chattanooga, Tenn., writes: I have been using Nature's Remedy for some time and it has afforded great relief from stomach trouble. I was down and out and it put me back on my feet. I have gained about 30 pounds since taking Nature's Remedy and I would not be without them.

SON-IN-LAW ACQUITTED OF MURDER OF IOWAN

Widow, Once Freed of Crime, Admits She Killed Husband, Fearing Attack.

MARENGO, Ia., Nov. 4.—Robert Leeper, on trial here for the last two weeks for the murder of his father-in-law, Roy Wertz at Iowa City, two years ago, was acquitted by the jury yesterday. The jury had been deliberating on the case since 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Roy Wertz was a prominent and wealthy real estate man at Iowa City.

Leeper was tried in 1922 and received a life sentence, but was given a new trial. His wife, Beryl Leeper, was indicted but the indictment was later squashed. Mrs. Roy Wertz, the widow, was also indicted but was acquitted. She admitted firing the fatal shots at both trials. Wertz was shot to death in his bed after his wife, daughter and Leeper had returned from a visit to Cedar Rapids. All denied the crime.

Mrs. Leeper admitted she was in the room when the shots were fired but declared she did not see the shooting. Leeper said he was in the basement firing the furnace. Mrs. Wertz denied all knowledge of the crime until after her acquittal then she made a confession saying she killed her husband because he was about to attack her with an axe.

Witnesses testified that the bullet took an upward course and said they believed that it was fired by a person standing below the victim. The State tried to prove that Leeper fired the shot as he came out of the basement.

Leeper will be returned to State Prison today to complete serving a two-year sentence for the theft of an auto after the first murder trial.

BAD POSTURE OFTEN RETARDS CHILDREN, CHIROPRACTOR SAYS

H. C. Harrington Says Habits Formed at School Desks Often Noticeable in Business World. The physical and mental development of children is frequently retarded by improper sitting postures in school, declared H. C. Harrington, president of the Missouri Chiropractic College, before the Chiropractic Research Bureau at the Marquette Hotel last night.

"School desks are uniform in structure and the child will, as a rule, try to adapt himself to the desk assigned, thus forming a habit that is difficult to overcome," he said. "The unnatural position affects the soft cartilage of the spinal column and in turn the nervous system. The influence may be noticeable during school life or later when the individual is subjected to the various forms of stress in the commercial world."

"Just how low are GMAC rates?"

General Motors rates for financing the purchase of its cars have always been lowest—and are now still lower. They amount to as little as

- 8c A DAY for a CHEVROLET
- 12c A DAY for an OLDSMOBILE
- 14c A DAY for an OAKLAND
- 16c A DAY for a BUICK
- 42c A DAY for a CADILLAC

The rates quoted above apply to the lowest priced models of the cars named. They are on the basis of a year in which to pay the cash delivered price. They are approximate, differing slightly in various localities, for they include standard fire and theft insurance.

But they are sufficient to show you that the GMAC Plan is the most economical plan for the purchase of a car on time.

Any General Motors dealer will gladly give you full particulars about the GMAC Plan and arrange a term of payments to suit your convenience.

If you have a load of bricks to take upstairs, at which end of the pile do you exert your force?

There are two kinds of executives, those who push and those who pull. In which category do you wish to fall?

The man or woman who pushes his employees, from the rear, gets just so much work out of them, and no more. He is in the position of the elephant prodder, with the spiked pole. The elephant may be as docile as a rabbit, for years, under this treatment, but some day he will turn, at the climax of his long-stored resentment, and show who is master and why.

If man would observe the habits of animals, and take his lesson from observance of their rule, he might get along faster and make more progress in civilization. Who ever heard of a leader of a pack of animals—whether they were wild geese or buffalo—driving them from the rear? Only man has invented that practice. Perhaps from his desire to save himself in battle! But animals, wise in their instincts, know that the only way to make their kinfolk do their bidding, is to stay ahead, leading them from the front, and not attempting to prod them from the rear.

If you have been employed long in the business world, you can easily recall several executives of the pushing and pulling types. And it takes no great stretch of imagination to decide, instantly, what is your attitude toward each.

For the woman who gets in front and pulls, when there is a hard job to be done, every other woman on the job will push her hardest to help the load make the grade. But for the woman who stands at the back and pushes, the spirit of enthusiastic co-operation will dwindle to a minimum. And it won't be long before even the most faithful of workers will begin to let down on her energy and speed. This may not even be intentional, but it is inevitable. Human nature is simply built that way.

These two methods of direction are open to you. Which sounds the more inviting? The pusher gets his work done grudgingly; the puller can count on the limit of help from the entire staff. The limit of endurance is the only measure of their loyal help. And for the woman who directs with a "follow-me" handclasp, instead of a pole, even this is somewhat stretched.

If you want anything done, step out front and pull!

HOME MAKING HELPS

By WANDA BARTON

My dear, the successful hostess isn't the lady in the pretentious house with the imported linens and heirloom silverware. Her luncheon may be a miserable failure unless she knows how to make her guests feel at ease and interest them with novel dishes and original decorations.

For instance, guests have been invited to a Japanese luncheon. Their curiosity is piqued, they are expectant—what will be served? They say to you, "Oh, Mrs. Brown, what a novel idea." The incense which greets them when they first step into the room gives the proper atmosphere.

The artificial Japanese flowers in vases about the room form a summery, "land-of-cherry-blossoms" effect. Your own small son or daughter may be dressed in a Japanese costume, to lead further interest. The child may take the guests' hats and wraps, and be useful in serving.

An original scene has been laid, you have had a good night's rest before and are your prettiest and cheeriest. So the food is of little concern, and the guests will like anything.

A chop suey served in bowls, with little side dishes of rice may form the main course after a sherbet glass of chilled fruit. Serve dainty little sandwiches if you like, and tea—there must be plenty of tea. Sweet spiced cumquats, or fruit, would be an appropriate dessert.

One need never make excuses for china, linens or anything in the home. Simple contentment with the best that we have needs no excuse and none will be asked if you are cordial and interested in your guests' welfare.

Spanish Meat Cakes.

Mince cold beef very fine, enough to make one cupful. Season with the juice of a large onion, pepper, salt, a half teaspoonful of sugar and add a teaspoonful of finely minced red pepper. Add a cupful of smooth, freshly mashed potato and form into cakes. Dip each cake into a simple batter and fry a good brown in deep fat. Serve with a smooth tomato sauce.

The Strange Escape of Danny Meadow Mouse

Who proves himself possessed of pluck To win needs but a little luck.

—Danny Meadow Mouse.

WHEN Black Pussy jumped for Danny Meadow Mouse she thought she was going to get him. In fact, she felt sure of it. She was quite certain that if she missed on that first jump she would get him on the second one. She could almost taste Meadow Mouse. Yes, sir, Black Pussy could almost taste Meadow Mouse, she was so sure she was going to catch Danny.

Now, when she had sprung at Danny, he had been running along beside a dead limb which had fallen from a tree growing beside the Long Lane. Danny knew nothing about that fallen limb, for this was the first time he had seen it. He had never been over there before. Out of the corner of one eye Danny saw Black Pussy just in time. My, such a fright as he had! As she sprang, he sprang. As you already know, Black Pussy barely missed him. Danny knew that she would instantly spring again. Black Pussy was very quick and no one knows this better than Danny. You should have seen those short legs of his move. He had to find a safe hiding place and find it quickly. There was no time to go looking for one. No, sir, there was no time to go looking for one. If there wasn't a hiding place right handy, and if he didn't find it right quickly, he would most certainly find a last hiding place in the stomach of Black Pussy. So, frightened as he was, Danny's sharp little eyes didn't miss a thing. One jump! Two jumps! Three jumps! Was that a little hole in that fallen branch? It was. Into it whisked Danny. It was a little hole which had been made long ago by Drummer the Woodpecker. Mrs. Drummer had had a nest in that limb before it had fallen from the tree.

It was luck, Danny says so himself. It was luck that he should have been so close to that hole when Black Pussy discovered him. But there was something more than luck in that escape, too. If Danny hadn't used his legs and used his eyes to the best of his ability, even when he thought it was useless he wouldn't have escaped.

Black Pussy was a surprised cat. She had been so sure that that second spring of hers would catch Danny that she couldn't believe it when those black paws of hers landed on nothing but the ground. Danny had slipped into that hole from right under those paws. He had done it so quickly that Black Pussy hadn't seen what became of him. Such a funny look as there was on her face. But, of course, it didn't take her long to discover that hole. She could get a paw in, but that was all. Of course, she put a paw in. She put a paw in with the claws all out, feeling for Danny Meadow Mouse. She hoped to get those claws into him and pull him out. Danny wasn't there. At least, he wasn't in reach of those claws. He was quite some little distance from those claws, and actually was laughing to himself as he heard Black Pussy feeling around for him. You see, that limb was now hollow nearly its whole length. That is why it had broken off and fallen. So Danny had scampered along to the other end of it. He was smart enough, however, not to leave it. He made himself comfortable inside and waited.

"I wonder where Nanny Meadow Mouse is?" thought Danny. "I do hope she had sense enough to stay where she was. Black Pussy didn't see her. I'll just stay here until Black Pussy has gone away; then I'll go back to look for Nanny unless she comes down here looking for me. My goodness, that was a narrow escape! But an escape is an escape, no matter how narrow it is, so what's the good of thinking about it. I suppose Black Pussy will sit down and watch that hole for a long time. That's the way she does. If it were not for Nanny I would hurry along. As it is, I guess I'll have to wait."
